THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 95 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Union of Domestic, Hotels, Educational Institutions, Hospitals and Allied Workers and
Presbyterian Church of East Africa

Issue in dispute:

Termination of Gerald Murunge's services.

THE Kenya Union of Domestic, Hotels, Educational Institutions, Hospitals and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Presbyterian Church of East Africa shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 9th April, 1987, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 29th May, 1986, duly signed by both parties was received by the Court on 23rd September, 1986 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Labour Commissioner and the Minister for Labour.

The respondents own Chogoria Hospital situated in Meru District which was established by the missionaries from Scotland over fifty years ago and is run as a charitable organization.

The background of the case is that Gerald Murunge, who is the grievant, was engaged by the respondents in January 1973 as an assistant hospital administrator and given a letter of appointment which he refused to sign but he took up the job offered to him on the same terms and conditions of service.

Soon after his appointment, the respondents sponsored him for a course covering hospital administration at the Kenya Institute of Administration in February 1973, and thereafter sent him to Southbank Polytechnic in Britain in November 1973 to study hospital administration for a period of about three (3) years. After his successful completion of the course, he returned to Kenya early in 1977 and was promoted by the respondents to the post of hospital administrator, a post which he held until the termination of his services on account of his prolonged illness in 1984.

The claimants submitted that the grievant was unfairly treated by the respondents when he fell sick and had to undergo major operation in the United States of America for renal problems. The claimants stated that late in September 1983, the grievant was admitted in Nairobi Hospital where it was discovered that he needed specialized treatment out of the country as his kidney was not functioning properly. He was later sent abroad through "Harambee" efforts and had a successful kidney transplant in January 1984. At a later date he returned to the country and stayed in the respondents' hospital compound for a long period convalescing. However, the respondents instead of letting him resume his duties when he was fit to work, decided to terminate his services on account of having stayed away from his job longer than the period allowed by the respondents' rules and regulations. The claimants submitted that the relevant rule should not have been applied automatically by the respondents to terminate the grievant's services.

The claimants pointed out that it is not right for the respondents to claim that the grievant accepted his dues including gratuity in full and final settlement as this was not the case. He needed money for his further treatment and, therefore, being desperate accepted what was offered to him.

Finally, the claimants asked the court to order the respondents to reinstate the grievant as he is capable of pursuing his profession and needs a regular income to maintain himself and his family.

The respondents in their submission stated that Mr. Murunge became suddenly ill and was admitted to the Nairobi Hospital under the directive of the respondents. While at the Hospital, the grievant was diagnosed as having a serious renal problem and was immediately recommended for further treatment in the United States of America. The respondents immediately embarked in raising funds to enable the grievant to go for specialized treatment. This was done and the grievant underwent a kidney transplant and was back to Kenya on or about 21st April, 1984.

The respondents asked the court to note that the respondents met all the treatment and incidental expenses of the grievant while he underwent treatment at Nairobi and also arranged for his treatment in the United States of America in accordance with the Church rules applying to sickness of its members and employees. The respondents went on to say that it should further be noted that the grievant was away on sick leave as from 23rd September, 1983 to 7th May, 1984 when he was purported to resume duty, a period of over seven (7) months.

This prolonged stay-away from the place of work was drawn to his attention by the respondents. He was later advised by the respondents not to work until the matter has been decided by the respondents. The respondents further stated that by stopping him from resumption of work, they were upholding their rules and at the same time being humane to the grievant by asking him to re-apply for the post considered to be vacant. The grievant declined to re-apply and assumed he was fit to continue with employment.

Thereafter, the grievant appealed against the hospital administration board committee's decision to the general assembly of the Church which is the highest decision-making body of the respondents' organization. He was duly accorded the audience to present his case before the assembly.

After a careful consideration, the assembly upheld the decision of the hospital administration board committee and arranged to pay him his terminal benefits to the tune of KSh. 62,079.30 which is made up as follows:

KSh.
Gratuity 50,996.00
Leave earned in 1983, 27½ days 4,373.30
Leave earned in 1984, 27½ days 6,710.00
Total 62,079.30

The respondents informed the court that this payment was readily accepted by the grievant and the matter treated as having been fairly concluded and closed.

In summing up, the respondents pointed out that the investigations carried out by an official of the Ministry of Labour arrived at a wrong conclusion by stating that the grievant was a sick man and a middle-aged man that the respondents were wrong in retiring him thus disregarding the application of the rules of practise and procedure of the Church which applied to all its employees regardless of their age and nature of sickness.

The respondents further asked the court to note that as a hospital administrator, the grievant was fully aware of the respondents' policies, rules and terms of service of all their employees including himself. The respondents further disagreed with the recommendation of the Ministry of Labour and requested the court to uphold their decision.

The court finds this to be a rather unfortunate dispute in that a professionally trained hospital administrator had to undergo a period of sickness lasting nearly seven (7) months during which time he had to undergo a kidney transplant operation in U.S.A. He is fighting to get back his job of a hospital administrator at the respondents' Chogoria Hospital, Meru.

The court notes that the grievant had appealed against the hospital administration board committee's decision to the general assembly of the Church which is the highest decision-making body of the respondents' organization. He was given an opportunity to present his case before the assembly but the assembly upheld the respondents' decision. He was paid terminal benefits amounting to KSh. 62,079.30 which included his gratuity (KSh. 50,996) which he quickly accepted.

This case revolves around clause 9 of the respondents' practice and procedure which states that after six months absence due to sickness, an employee's salary shall cease "and the worker be invalidated out of the Church's service". The respondents claim that the invalidation is automatic but the court is not so sure if that is the proper interpretation of these words. The clause says that the worker be invalidated out of the Church's service and the court finds that this requires that a medical board should be set up to determine the health of the worker whether or not he is fit to continue in employment. There is no evidence at all that the respondents sought any medical opinion on the grievant's state of health after seven (7) months.

Under these circumstances he has suffered a wrongful dismissal.

The court, however, rules against the grievant's reinstatement, and further in view of the fact that he had accepted his terminal benefits and had refused to re-apply for the job as suggested by the respondents, the court awards him compensation of three (3) months' salary only.

Given in Nairobi on 11th June, 1987.

Judge.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE No. 99 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and
Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of P. K. Wanyoike.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 15th April, 1987, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. In addition, they called the following witnesses:

Respondents.—P. N. Gicheha.

Claimants.—Paul K. Wanyoike.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 17th June, 1986 signed by the parties was received by the court on 23rd September, 1986 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant, Mr. Wanyoike, was employed by the respondents on 2nd May, 1976, as a general hand at a salary of KSh. 417 per month inclusive of housing allowance. He was dismissed on 31st October, 1983, after a service of nearly eight years. The incident that led to his dismissal took place on 1st, 2nd and 3rd October, 1983, when he was responsible for testing acidity development for milk packed on 30th September, 1983. Nearly all the milk he tested on those days, having graded them as good, went bad, and as a result, the respondents lost KSh. 24,435 through his negligence. He was, subsequently, suspended from duty on 10th October, 1983.

The claimants' branch official took up the matter on his behalf at a J. I. C. meeting held on 3rd November, 1983, but the respondents refused to rescind their decision to dismiss him. The claimants then reported a trade dispute, and having gone through the usual machinery, the Ministry's findings was that the grievant was not placed in a proper job, and recommended that the dismissal be reduced to a normal termination and he be paid in addition four (4) months salary by way of compensation.

This recommendation was turned down by the claimants and the issue is now before the court for consideration.

The claimants in their submission stated that Mr. Wanyoike was placed in a job he was not qualified to perform since he had failed twice to pass the examination of a laboratory assistant. They pointed out that Mr. Wanyoike had twice asked the respondents for a change of duty as he felt incompetent to do the job assigned to him, but, his request was never taken seriously. They concluded that the respondents were fully aware of the risk they were taking when putting an untrained person to do a technical work.

In reply, the respondents stated that the grievant had been put through various assignments in the factory which he had done without complaint. In particular, he had done this job of acidity test for over two years without any problem as they considered it a straight-forward case of taking samples of milk from the cooling room and adding a chemical and then reading the changes in colour which determined the acid content and graded it accordingly.

The respondents pointed out that the job is very simple and a person of Mr. Wanyoike's education can do with ease. They were surprised to find that a grade was placed on this batch of milk which meant that it was of good quality that could stand the required shelf life, but it turned out that 543 crates of milk worth KSh. 24,435 had actually gone bad.

On the material day the grievant was seen in town on his own errand during working hours. When he was questioned he never denied having left his work place. Instead, he came and cheated by putting a random grade hoping that everything would turn out well.

With regard to the question of Mr. Wanyoike having failed the tests, the respondents firmly denied any knowledge of such tests as these are normally notified to the factory manager in advance. They denied that he ever requested that he be removed from that section at all due to his incompetence.

After a careful evaluation of the evidence, the court is satisfied that on 30th September, 1983, Mr. Wanyoike while engaged on taking samples to determine the acid content in the milk merely recorded imaginary results without carrying out tests as required. As a result of his omission and negligence, that batch of milk was almost completely wasted. The court was further informed that Mr. Wanyoike was, on July 1983, instrumental in detecting poor testing by a fellow colleague. This could not have happened if he was incompetent to do the work as he alleged. Moreover, the respondents could not have retained his services in that section for over two (2) years as this would have been detrimental to the respondents' business. This being a food processing factory, the court cannot believe the claimants' assertion that the grievant was incompetent and that he was placed in a position above his capabilities despite his persistent requests to be removed from there.

The court was very impressed by the evidence of P. Gicheha, factory manager, and the court found him to be a truthful witness. His evidence that Mr. Wanyoike went on a personal errand in Nyahururu town where his colleague saw him, was never refuted by the grievant.

Although Mr. Wanyoike had put in eight years' service with the respondents, the fact that he was so unreliable and irresponsible to the point that he could lie to the respondents that he did acidity test which he never did, and, the fact that he chose to leave his workplace without permission thereby causing the respondents a loss to the tune of KSh. 24,435, leaves the court with very little sympathy for him.

The court must say that although the claimants have made a vigorous effort in this dispute on behalf of Mr. Wanyoike, they have failed to convince the court on the innocence of Mr. Wanyoike. The court accordingly rejects the claimants' demands for his reinstatement but awards that the respondents should change Mr. Wanyoike's summary dismissal to a normal termination of service which would entitle him to pay in lieu of notice and his lawful terminal dues under the collective agreement in force at the material time.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 2902

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
