2. The grant will be issued in the name of the allottee as given in the letter of application and will be subject to the special conditions set out below.

3. The term of the grant will be for ninety-nine (99) years from the first day of the month following the issue of the letter of allotment.

Special Conditions

No buildings shall be erected on the land nor shall additions or external alterations be made to any buildings otherwise than in conformity with plans and specifications previously approved in writing by the local authority. The local authority shall not give approval unless it is satisfied that the proposals are such as to develop the land adequately and satisfactorily.

2. The grantee shall, within six (6) calendar months of the actual registration of the grant, submit in triplicate to the local authority plans (including block plans showing the positions of the buildings and system of drainage for the disposal of sewage, surface and sullage water), drawings, elevations and specifications of the buildings the grantee proposes to erect on the land and shall within twenty-four (24) months of the actual registration of the grant complete the erection of such buildings and the construction of the drainage system in conformity with such plans, drawings, elevations and specifications as amended (if such be the case) by the local authority:

Provided that notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained or implied by the Trust Land Act, if default shall be made in the performance or observance of any of the requirements of this condition it shall be lawful for the county council or any person authorized by the county council to re-enter into and upon the land or any part thereof in the name of the whole and thereupon the term created shall cease but without prejudice to any right of action or remedy of the county council in respect of any antecedent breach of any condition herein contained.

3. The grantee shall maintain in good substantial repair and condition all buildings at any time erected on the land.

4. Should the grantee give notice in writing to the county council that he/she/they is/are unable to complete the buildings within the period aforesaid, the county council shall (at the grantee's expenses) accept a surrender of the land comprised herein:

Provided further that if such notice as aforesaid shall be given—

(a) within twelve (12) months of commencement of the term, the county council shall refund to the grantee 50 per cent of the stand premium paid in respect of the land;

(b) at any subsequent time prior to the expiration of the said building period, the county council shall refund to the grantee 5 per cent of the said stand premium; or

(c) in the event of the notice being given after the expiration of the said building period, no refund shall be made.

5. The land and the buildings shall only be used for the purposes shown in the schedule.

6. The buildings shall not cover greater or lesser area of land than that laid down by the local authority in its by-laws.

7. The land shall not be used for the purpose of any trade or business which the local authority considers to be dangerous or offensive.

8. The grantee shall not subdivide the land without prior consent in writing of the county council and the Commissioner of Lands.

9. The grantee shall not sell, transfer, sublet, charge or part with the possession of the land or any part thereof or any buildings thereon except with prior consent in writing of the county council. No application for such consent (except in respect of a loan required for building purposes) will be considered until special condition No. 2 has been performed.

10. The grantee shall pay to the local authority on demand such sum as the local authority may estimate to be the proportionate cost of constructing all roads and drains and sewers serving or adjoining the land and shall on completion of such construction and ascertainment of the actual proportionate cost either pay (within seven days of demand) or be refunded the amount by which the actual proportionate cost exceeds or falls short of the amount paid as aforesaid.

11. The grantee shall from time to time pay to the local authority on demand such proportion of the cost of maintaining all roads and drains serving or adjoining the land as the local authority may assess.

12. Should the local authority at any time require the said roads to be constructed to a higher standard, the grantee shall pay to the local authority on demand such proportion of the cost of such construction as the local authority may assess.

13. The grantee shall pay such rates, taxes, charges, duties, assessments or outgoings of whatever description as may be imposed, charged or assessed by any government or local authority upon the land or the buildings erected thereon including any contribution or other sum paid by the local authority or the county council in lieu thereof.

14. The county council or such person or authority as may be appointed for the purpose shall have the right to enter upon the land and lay and have access to water mains, service pipes and drains, telephone or telegraph wires and electric mains of all descriptions whether overhead or underground and the grantee shall not erect any building in such a way as to cover or interfere with any existing alignment of mains or service pipes, telephone or telegraph wires and electric mains.

15. The local authority reserves the right to revise the annual ground rental payable hereunder after the expiration of thirty-third (33rd) and sixty-sixth (66th) year of the term granted. Such rent will be at the rate of 4 per cent of the unimproved freehold value of the land as assessed by the Commissioner of Lands on behalf of the county council.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 1586

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 66 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Petroleum Oil Workers' Union
and
Kenya Pipeline Company Limited

Issue in dispute:

General wage increase based on the cost of living indices for 1984-1985.

The Kenya Petroleum Oil Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Pipeline Company Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 17th December, 1986, 19th and 27th January, 1987 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 11th April, 1986, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 16th June, 1986, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents are a parastatal organization handling the movement of petroleum products from Mombasa to Nairobi and they began their operations in 1978. They have approximately 500 employees on their payroll out of which 230 are unionizable staff.

The court notes that although the parties signed their recognition agreement on 26th June, 1984, they did not enter into any collective agreement until 8th January, 1986, which agreement was duly processed and registered by the court on 17th March, 1986, under RCA No. 76 of 1986.

The claimants strongly submitted that even though the agreement was registered by the court they had raised their objection to the registration of the agreement until the parties had negotiated the issue of wage increase to compensate the workers for the rise of the cost of living as undertaken by the respondents during conciliation. They stated that the undertaking was given in writing by the respondents' managing director, on 22nd February, 1985. The claimants stated that the respondents were classified under category "E" of the parastatal classification but after their representations to the Government they were upgraded to category "D". They submitted that prior to the respondents' classification as a parastatal, they had their own salary structure.

The claimants further submitted that the upgrading of the respondents to category "D" affected only the employees in job group 1 to 9. They stated that the management had misled their Board of Directors that these changes affected the employees in job group 1 to 14B as well. They strongly submitted that the respondents had left the unionizable employees on the salary structure of category "E" instead of upgrading them to the salary structure of category "D" after they were upgraded. They castigated the respondents for this as the unionizable employees should have received prior consideration in improving their salaries.

The claimants stated that during conciliation, the parties had agreed on a new salary structure and other terms and conditions of service and that the respondents had undertaken to negotiate wage increase based on the new salary structure to compensate the employees for the rise in the cost of living for the period 1984-1985. They further stated that the parties did not negotiate the issue of wage increase but they only corrected an anomaly which was existing in the salary structure of the respondents by moving the unionizable employees who were left in category "E" structure to category "D" structure.

The claimants further submitted that the senior staff also benefitted from restructuring of the salary scales and also under the Ramtu Commission report.

The claimants, therefore, demanded the following increases:

Lower income group	... 21.1 per cent.
Middle income group	... 23 per cent.
Upper income group	... 16.3 per cent.

The claimants finally requested the court to award the increases as amended by them and that these increases should be back-dated to 1st January, 1984. They also requested the court to award that the respondents should pay their employees the arrears from the date they were upgraded to category "D", that is, 1st July, 1982 to 1st July, 1985, when the anomaly in their salary structure was corrected. They also requested the court to order the respondents to update the salary structure of unionizable employees taking into account the management's salary structure within category "D" classification.

The respondents countered the claimants' submission by submitting that the claimants have failed to understand as well as appreciate the operation of the current wages guidelines, particularly guidelines (iv) which deals with wage increases to compensate the workers covered by particular contracts for the rise in the cost of living.

They further submitted that the claimants had initially wanted to pursue the wages and salaries based on the cost of living indices but they abandoned this demand after realizing and accepting that there was no basis for such a demand. The respondents went on to submit that even when the claimants reported an existence of a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour, compensation for the cost of living was not an issue.

The respondents stated that during conciliation the claimants revised their demand to include what they called the element of cost of living and that they indicated that their demand was based on annual incremental scales as follows:

Job Group	Salary/Wages Structure without the cost of living element	Salary/Wages Structure with the cost of living element	Percentage change
10	2,010	2,700	34.33
11	1,494	1,953	30.72
12	1,350	1,819	34.74
13	900	1,206	34.00
14A	690	968	40.25
14B	—	615	—

They further stated that after the parties had agreed in principle not to negotiate the cost of living increases they proceeded to negotiate on salary scales as specified under clause 28 of their current collective agreement signed on 8th January, 1986.

The respondents accused the claimants of deliberately violating the principles of collective bargaining and good industrial relations for demanding a further increase after the parties had agreed on salaries. They stated that the claimants were aware that prior to this agreement, the respondents' employees were getting annual increases according to the employees' salary scales from time to time.

The respondents further submitted that the increases arising from the re-classification of the respondents from category "E" to "D" had never been in dispute and that the claimants should not be allowed to introduce it at this stage. They strongly submitted that it was not necessary for them to adjust their salary scales at the time they were re-classified to category "D" as the rates for their unionizable staff at the time were more favourable than those specified in the Waruhui Commission Report of 1980.

They stated that salary increases based on the rise in the cost of living will be considered or negotiated after the expiry of the parties' current collective agreement, and that the claimants' demand for wage increase based on cost of living indices for 1984-1985 had no basis. They requested the court to reject the claimants' demand.

This dispute revolves around an undertaking which was given by the respondents' managing director to the claimants on 22nd February, 1985, couched in the following terms:

"As agreed in the meeting of 22nd February, 1985, the union will present to the K.P.C. management a detailed salary proposal for unionizable staff excluding the cost of living element for the necessary consideration. The company undertakes to consider the union proposal based on the cost of living indices after the new salary proposal has been agreed upon." Signed by W. N. Mbote, managing director.

"I, J. Ochino, secretary-general of the union, confirm acceptance of the above agreement." Signed J. Ochino.

There is no dispute that subsequent to the aforesaid undertaking the parties negotiated a collective agreement which was signed on 8th January, 1986, and which was duly forwarded to the Minister and subsequently registered by the industrial court.

The court has carefully considered the various points put forward by the parties and can find no evidence to prove that the claimants had agreed in principle not to negotiate the cost of living increases prior to the signing of the said collective agreement which the claimants maintain contained the new salary structure and nothing more.

The court notes that the various job groups covering the unionizable employees received the following percentage increases as a result of the salary structure embodied in the collective agreement:

Job groups:	Percentage
10	15.61
11	19.45
12	19.88
13	21
14A	20.65

The court believes that these percentage increases to a large extent reflect the correction of anomalies which had historically persisted in the salary structure of the unionizable employees much to their detriment. The respondents should have positive steps to cancel their managing director's undertaking prior to the signing of the collective agreement, this they failed to do.

The court is also aware that the claimants were opposed to the registration of the collective agreement because of this outstanding issue but eventually agreed because this dispute would be processed in due course. So it would be very wrong to confront them with the collective agreement and say that they should now wait till its expiry. The court would like to add that good faith should be exhibited by all parties in industrial relations.

The court must reject the claimant's demand that any salary increases awarded by the court should be backdated to January 1984, as whatever development takes place now has to be within the effective date and duration of the existing collective agreement which is effective from 1st July, 1985 and is in force until 30th June, 1988. The court must also reject the claimants' prayer that the unionizable employees should be paid arrears of category "D" salary structure between the period 1st July, 1982 to 1st July, 1985, when the parties corrected the salary structure. These two points are not the subject matter of this dispute. The court is strictly bound by the issue in dispute as it appears on Form "A".

The court, however, finds that the claimants have a case for the increases based on the cost of living indices for 1984 and part of 1985, at least. The court does not intend to deal with any cost of living increases from 1st July, 1985 onwards as such increases will no doubt be taken into account when the collective agreement is revised towards the middle of 1988.

The court, therefore, rules that the respondents' employees are entitled to a general wage increase based on the cost of living indices for the period 1st January, 1984 to 30th June, 1985, only and that also because of the clear undertaking given by the respondents' managing director as stated hereinabove. The court, accordingly, awards that all the respondents' unionizable employees should be awarded a wage increase of 5 per cent from 1st July, 1985 and another general wage increase of 6 per cent from 1st July, 1986. There will be no increase from 1st July, 1987.

The court further directs that the respondents should pay the arrears arising out of this award to the workers within six (6) months of the date of the award.

Given at Nairobi on the 6th April, 1987.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1587

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 100 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Plantation and Agricultural Workers' Union
and
Bahati Capons and Rose Limited

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Mumtaz Ahmed.

THE Kenya Plantation and Agricultural Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Bahati Capons and Rose Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 12th March, 1987 and relied on their verbal and written submissions.

AWARD

3. The Minister for Labour signed the reference of this dispute to the industrial court on 18th September, 1986, in accordance with section 8 of the Trade Dispute Act which reference the court received on 7th October, 1986, together with statutory certificates signed by the Labour Commissioner and the Minister himself.

The grievant in this dispute, namely Mumtaz Ahmed, a non-citizen living in Kenya under section 18 of the Immigration Act, was employed by the respondents as an assistant manager on 15th January, 1985, at a starting salary of KSh. 4,000 per month.

The claimants stated that hardly had the grievant worked for them when during his probation period the respondents verbally terminated his services on account of their inability to obtain a work permit for him. The claimants pointed out that due to procrastination and laxity on the part of the respondents in applying for a work permit for him during the stipulated period as stated in the new Immigration Regulations which had been promulgated by the Minister at the time, the grievant found himself time barred. This caused him a lot of frustration and hardship as he had been left in a state of uncertainty about his employment.

The claimants, therefore, demanded that the respondents should pay the grievant compensation for loss of employment and his other lawful dues.

The respondents in their submissions stated that the dispute before the court is bad in law and cannot succeed in that the grievant's employment with them was nullified by law. The relevant regulations which came into force on 18th January, 1985, automatically determined the grievant's employment, unless he was able to obtain a work permit from the Immigration office within ninety (90) days from the effective date of the said legislation.

The respondents pointed out that the grievant was placed on six (6) months and not three (3) months probationary period as stated earlier by the claimants. Furthermore there was no service contract discussed or entered between them and the matter was left open for discussion after the expiry of six (6) months probation period. After a successful completion of the probationary period the respondents would have issued the grievant with a letter of appointment and confirmed him in employment.

The respondents denied having issued at anytime or at all verbal termination to the grievant but submitted that the grievant having failed to obtain a work permit as required under the Immigration Act within the stipulated time limit, left the employment of the respondents himself. If he had continued to work without a work permit then both of them would have committed an offence under the Immigration Act. The respondents further denied having made him work overtime after normal working hours as there was no need for him to do so.

The respondents, therefore, asked the court to dismiss the suit as the claimants had not made out any case of wrongful dismissal against them.

After careful consideration of the submissions by the parties, the court notes that the situation the parties found themselves in when the new Immigration Regulations came into force called for co-operation and understanding between the grievant and the respondents. The respondents in this case should not have kept the grievant in the dark about the steps, if any, they were taking to obtain a work permit for him during the stipulated period. The grievant cannot be expected to apply for his own work permit as it is mainly the responsibility of the employer to apply and give reasons for the need to employ a non-citizen. The employer, however, is not under any obligation to do that; he may or may not apply for a work permit for a non-citizen depending on the availability of local expertise. Under these circumstances the court cannot do much for the grievant because he should have also actively pursued the matter of his work permit.

From the evidence before the court, the court finds that what the claimants considered to be laxity on the part of the respondents in obtaining a work permit for the grievant and the events that led to his termination cannot constitute a wrongful dismissal. This court notes that the grievant was paid up to 16th May, 1985.

The court has no alternative but to reject the claimants' demands.

Given at Nairobi on the 2nd April, 1987.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 1588

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 107 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and
Emco Steel Works (K) Limited

Issues in dispute:

Scope of agreement; definition of employees; minimum wage; general wage increase; housing allowance; shift differential; annual paid leave; sick pay; medical benefits; permanent transfer; promotion; retirement benefits; leave travelling allowance; death benefits; supply of milk; effective date and duration; casual workers and redundancy.

THE Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Emco Steel Works (K) Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 17th February, and 20th March, 1987, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 24th July, 1986, was received by the court on 31st October, 1986, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The background of this dispute is that the claimants had a collective agreement with the respondents which expired on 31st March, 1984. The parties were due to renew it with effect from 1st April, 1984. The claimants forwarded their proposals to the respondents in March 1984. The respondents never replied until July 1984 when the claimants decided to report a formal dispute to the Minister for Labour. The Minister accepted the dispute and a conciliator was appointed. Between May and June 1986, the parties held conciliation meetings under the chairmanship of the appointed conciliator. The parties agreed on several items but recorded deadlock on eighteen (18) which are now before the court.

The claimants are seeking wage increase and other benefits for 130 permanent employees and 80 casuals working for the respondents. The claimants told the court that had it not been for the respondents' negative attitude, this dispute could have been avoided.

The respondents told the court that the previous agreement which was effective from 1st April, 1982 to 31st March, 1984, was registered by the court on 25th July, 1985. Before the registration, the parties had entered into negotiations regarding payment of arrears and agreed that the workers be paid in two instalments, that is, at the end of March 1985 and at the end of July, 1985. The respondents told the court that during these happenings, the respondents received another memorandum from the claimants proposing negotiations for another agreement to cover the period 1st April, 1984 to 30th March, 1986. These negotiations did not take place as the respondents' general manager was out of the country and his return was awaited. The respondents informed the claimants about this but the claimants went ahead and reported a trade dispute which is now before the court.

Scope of agreement:

On this item, the claimants want the agreement to read:

"This agreement shall be observed in respect of employees other than those who are excluded by the terms of the current Industrial Relations Charter".

The respondents stated that they did not see any justified reason by the claimants to add this clause as it is already covered in the previous agreement.

The court has given consideration to this issue and finds that the existing clause caters for their demand and no change in the wording is necessary.

Definition of employees:

The claimants want this clause of the agreement to read:

'It is understood and agreed that the word "Employee" in this agreement shall cover all employees who are represented by the Union and it shall mean both males and females unless specifically stated otherwise. It is appreciated, however, that there may be other employees who are not Union members'.

The respondents disagreed with the claimants' demand and told the court that the previous and current agreements covered the definition.

The court finds the claimants' demand on this item to be adequately covered as it is and no change is necessary.

Minimum wage:

On this item the claimants are demanding increases on the present minimums ranging from 17 per cent at job group "A" up to 41 per cent at job group "K". On clerical grades, the claimants are demanding increases ranging between 28.5 per cent for job group 1 to 46.5 per cent for job group 5.

The respondents told the court that the claimants' demand was not reasonable as it is above the guidelines. The respondents offered to adjust the minimums by KSh. 50 for the first year and KSh. 70 for the second year of the agreement.

Investigations carried out by the Division of Manpower Planning and Development have revealed that the claimants' demand is over and above the guidelines by 13.5 per cent per year while the respondents offer is below the guidelines. The court finds that under the guidelines, these workers are entitled to a 9 per cent wage increase per year on this item for the period under review. The court, accordingly, awards that the minimum wage should go up by these percentages.

General wage increase:

The claimants are demanding a wage increase of 45 per cent for each employee on the workers' wages as at 31st March, 1984.

The respondents offered an increase of KSh. 50 for the first year and KSh. 70 for the second year.

The court has given consideration to this item and awards an increase of 9 per cent each year to the employees on their wages as at 31st March, 1984. The second year wage increase should be calculated after the first year wage increase has been added to the wages.

Housing allowance:

The claimants are demanding KSh. 500 per month as housing allowance. At present the respondents are paying KSh. 140 as housing allowance.

The respondents offered to improve this allowance by KSh. 20.

After careful consideration of this item, the court awards an increase of KSh. 35 on this item making a house allowance of KSh. 175 per month.

Shift differential:

The claimants are demanding a night-shift allowance of KSh. 1 per hour worked between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. This is in addition to the workers normal earnings.

The respondents told the court that this is a new clause introduced by the claimants. The respondents stated that at present they are experiencing financial and operational problems and as such they cannot offer anything on this item.

After careful consideration of the submissions and taking into account the present financial standing of the respondents, the court rejects the claimants' demand for the time being. The claimants will be at liberty to raise this demand at future negotiations.

Annual paid leave:

The claimants are demanding 30 working days leave excluding Sundays and gazetted public holidays each year served.

The respondents told the court that at present their employees are given twenty-eight (28) consecutive days leave. The respondents said the twenty-eight (28) days leave was above their workers entitlement under the legal order.

The court rejects the claimants' demand.

Sick pay:

On this item, the claimants are demanding sixty-five (65) days sick leave with full pay and another sixty-five (65) days on half pay in every year of service.

The respondents offered thirty-five (35) days with full pay and a further forty (40) days with half pay.

According to the majority of the registered collective agreements, the court finds that the respondents' offer on this item to be reasonable. The court upholds the respondents' offer and so awards.

Medical benefits:

The claimants want free medical treatment including reimbursement of money paid to approved medical practitioners on production of receipts.

The respondents stated that the claimants' demand is beyond the respondents' ability. The respondents would like to pay for normal medical treatment in government or local authority hospitals.

After careful consideration of the submissions, the court finds that if the claimants' demand is allowed, this would have enormous labour cost implications for the respondents whose financial standing is unstable as it is.

The court rejects the claimants' demand.

Permanent transfers:

The claimants are demanding KSh. 1,000 as disturbance allowance to be paid to an employee who is transferred to the respondents' other branches outside Nairobi.

The respondents told the court that they, the respondents, do not have branches elsewhere, so this clause is not necessary.

The court finds that the respondents have no branches elsewhere so the question of transfer does not arise. The court rejects the claimants' demand as the workers are entitled to allowance as and when they go out of Nairobi.

Promotion:

The claimants' demand on this item is that where vacancies of a promotional nature arise the respondents should give priority to existing employees. The respondents stated that this was the practice in their undertaking and a new clause need not be included in the collective agreement.

After consideration of the submissions on this item, the court has decided to leave matters as they are until such time as the claimants prove that the respondents are deviating from the said practice.

Retirement benefits:

The claimants are demanding payment of gratuity to employees as shown below:

1 to 5 years of service	-2 weeks' pay for each year completed.
6 to 10 years of service	-3½ weeks' pay for every year completed.
After 10 years of service	-1 month's pay for each completed year.

The respondents stated that they have all along rejected this demand as they cannot financially meet it. The respondents contribute to N.S.S.F. as retirement benefits.

The court finds that if the claimants' demand on this item is allowed it will have labour cost implications for the respondents beyond their reach. The court rejects the claimants' demand.

Leave travelling allowance:

The claimants are demanding KSh. 500 to be paid to an employee proceeding on annual leave as travelling allowance.

The respondents stated that they pay KSh. 200 at present and offered to improve this allowance by KSh. 20.

The court awards a leave travelling allowance of KSh. 250.

Death benefits:

The claimants are demanding that when an employee passes away while in employment of the respondents, the respondents shall provide a coffin and pay the necessary funeral transportation expenses.

The respondents stated that although they have been providing coffin and transport, they did not want to contract on death issues.

The court has carefully considered this item and finds that the respondents offer better benefits without any obligation to do so and the court has decided to leave the matter as it is.

Supply of Milk:

The claimants are demanding two litres of milk per day for employees because of the nature of work they perform.

The respondents stated that there was no medical requirement to warrant this demand and prayed the court to reject it.

The court finds that this item requires a professional recommendation from the Factories Inspectorate who have not been requested or contacted over this issue. The court rejects the claimants' demand.

Casual workers:

The claimants are demanding that casual employees who work for the respondents for three months consecutively be taken on permanent employment.

The respondents told the court that there was another dispute over the same issue which is at the conciliation level and requested the court not to make a ruling on this item now. The respondents also informed the court that there is a tripartite meeting coming up soon to discuss this issue as a national policy.

The court finds that the issue of casuals in the country is being looked into by the relevant bodies so the court would not like to prejudice their efforts. The court has decided to leave the matter pending for the time being.

Redundancy:

The claimants are demanding four weeks pay for each completed year of service for an employee who is declared redundant.

The respondents told the court that the parties had agreed on two weeks' pay for every completed year of service by an employee who may be declared redundant. The respondents asked the court to reject the claimants' demand.

After careful consideration of this issue, the court finds no merit in the claimants' demand and rejects it.

Effective date and duration:

The claimants would like the effective date of the current agreement to be 1st April, 1984, and to remain in force for two years. The claimants' demand that any arrears from this agreement be paid to the workers at once.

The respondents stated that they have no quarrel over the effective date and duration. They, however, prayed that the payment of arrears be spread over six instalments from the date of the award due to financial burden.

The court awards that the effective date should be 1st April, 1984, as agreed by the parties and the collective agreement should remain in force for two years from that.

Finally, the court awards that the respondents should pay all the arrears arising from this award in three equal monthly instalments commencing end of April 1987.

Given in Nairobi on the 31st March, 1987.

All "copy" submitted for publication should be prepared on one side of an A4 sheet no matter how small the notice or Act, each page being numbered, and should be typewritten with double spacing. Copy should be clear, legible and contain a minimum of alterations.

Particular attention should be paid to the following points:

- (i) Signature must be clarified by means of rubber-stamping or typing the name of the signer in capital letters.
- (ii) Dates must be correct and filled in where necessary.
- (iii) Care should be taken to ensure that all headings to notices and references to legislation are up to date and conform with the Revised Edition of the Laws of Kenya.
