THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 15 OF 1983

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and

Tigania Farmers' Co-operative Society Limited

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Andrew Kubai Amwira.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Tigania Farmers' Co-operative Society Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 23rd, 24th and 25 August, 1983, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses:

Claimants.—A. K. Amwira.

Respondents:

A. Nkambi.
D. Limiri.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 2nd November, 1982, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 4th February, 1983, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

This case concerns a person who claims to be the best citizen but whose record shows that during the sixteen years' service he had with the respondents he received no less than twenty-one warnings including some very serious allegations of misappropriation.

tion of money and which also led to his suspension. Surprisingly, however, he was allowed to continue in employment and in 1974, he was promoted to be the factory manager.

The respondents submitted that he continued in employment despite this poor record because the former chairman of the respondents always protected him. They went as far as to allege that Mr. Amwira is a unique character being an alcoholic, thoroughly dishonest and who is alleged to specialize in being absent from his work.

The immediate circumstances that led to his dismissal are that on 19th January, 1981, he was served with a letter of suspension for allegedly:

"Staying out the whole day on 13th January, 1981, after going to Mikinduri in a society vehicle."

Leaving the office on 16th January, 1981, without permission.

Insulting the secretary/manager on 17th January, 1981, and shouting to everybody that they were thieves and he will imprison them."

On 24th January, he was served with a letter of dismissal.

After carefully evaluating the parties' submissions and the evidence given by the various witnesses the court is satisfied that he was not given an opportunity to answer any of the charges that were levelled against him by the secretary/manager. As it turned out Mr. Amwira while giving evidence satisfied the court that on 13th and 16th January he was absent from the on official business. At this time he had been transferred from the job factory manager to a post in the general office which had made him in charge of one of the respondents' vehicles.

The court cannot overlook one rather important aspect in this dispute and that is that the district co-operative officer (hereinafter referred to as D.C.O.), Meru, was approached by Mr. Amwira and who carried out his own investigation into the matter and on 6th February, 1982, his finding was that it was proved as he had seen documentary evidence to support it, that Mr. Amwira was in the right places on the dates when he is alleged to have been absent. It was the D.C.O.'s view that the differences that led to his dismissal were more personal than official. He also confirmed that Mr. Amwira's file was full of warning letters concerning absenteeism and so on. The court would like to point out that the D.C.O. carried out the investigations immediately at the time of Mr. Amwira's dismissal and the court must therefore place considerable reliance on this investigation. Following the D.C.O.'s investigation and report the commissioner for co-operatives asked the respondents to review the case of Mr. Amwira and to take the necessary subsequent action it deserved. The respondents, however, stuck to their decision. The dispute was then investigated by the Ministry of Labour whose finding was that the dismissal was justified. The court must add that the investigation by the Ministry of Labour was carried out almost a year after the incident had taken place. In these circumstances and after hearing the evidence from the various witnesses the court finds that the D.C.O.'s investigation is nearer the truth than the investigation report by the Ministry of Labour.

It is a matter of regret that the respondents did not investigate the detailed explanation which Mr. Amwira had given when he was suspended and to make matters worse they did not even give him a chance to defend himself before the respondents' management committee decided to dismiss him. The respondents again displayed their hardline attitude when they completely ignored the D.C.O.'s report and the commissioner's advice to them to review Mr. Amwira's case. The court finds that Mr. Amwira has suffered as wrongful dismissal. The court cannot overlook the point that the respondents had a new chairman when he was dismissed. So the D.C.O.'s remark that the differences that led to the dismissal were more personal than official carries a lot of weight.

The court having found that Mr. Amwira suffered a wrongful dismissal is not prepared to reinstate him in view of his appalling past record and the court also formed the opinion after hearing his evidence that his attitude towards his superiors is rather aggressive. The court is also not inclined to award him the maximum compensation and feels that six months' salary by way of compensation would meet the dictates of justice in this case and the court so awards. The court would like to add that he is not entitled to any other benefits apart from this six months' salary.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 24 OF 1983*Parties:*

Kenya Union of Domestic, Hotels, Educational Institutions
Hospitals and Allied Workers
and
Kenya Utalii College

Issue in dispute:

Termination of Francis Njoroge King'aru.

THE Kenya Union of Domestic, Hotels, Educational Institutions, Hospital and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Utalii College shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 29th and 30th June and 12th August, 1983, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses:

Claimants.—F. N. King'aru.

Respondents:

J. P. Otieno,
B. Wangusi,
J. Mbugua.

AWARD

3. The Minister for Labour referred this dispute to the Industrial Court in accordance with section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act, on 23rd March, 1983, which was received by the court on 29th March.

In this dispute the grievant, F. N. King'aru, worked for the respondents in a permanent capacity from 1st November, 1976, until 4th December, 1981, when he was served with a normal termination. Mr. King'aru first trained at Kenya Polytechnic after which he worked at Hilton Hotel for eight months and then joined the respondents. He was also a recipient of first prize in kitchen work and received books worth KSh. 200. He started working as an assistant storekeeper and then became control clerk grade 9.

It was rather unfortunate for Mr. King'aru not to get a position in the academic establishment of the respondent where the court was told the salary scales are more attractive than the general administration. That matter, however, is not an issue in dispute and the selecting authority must have had good reasons for denying him an academic post. This fact, however, seemed to have influenced Mr. King'aru's whole attitude towards his work as a control clerk where he had risen to the position of senior control clerk grade 7. This is evident from the correspondence and the complaints which were made by the immediate supervisor of Mr. King'aru, Mr. Mbugua, against him and Mr. Ombiro. This was when a certain job was given to one Mr. Lugwe in which both Mr. King'aru and Mr. Ombiro were interested. They alleged that Mr. Mbugua had stood in their way in getting that job.

At one stage Mr. King'aru and Mr. Mbugua were the best of friends and Mr. Mbugua had even gone to the former's place where they had a party and ate goat meat, etc. That happy state of affairs, however, did not last long. From the various appendices to the written submissions which show various incidents which started in August, 1979, and continued until the termination of Mr. King'aru the court is satisfied that Mr. King'aru was suffering from some sort of a feeling that people were out to get him and that his life was in danger as on one occasion he drew a completely abnormal conclusion when he was offered a lift by some people as he suspected that there was an ulterior motive in it. All this clearly shows that he not only had a very suspicious nature but that he was also a quarrelsome type of person fond of indulging in lengthy correspondence. This no doubt goes back to the frustration which he experienced for not being selected for the academic post.

Mr. King'aru was served with a first warning on 2nd February, 1981, because of his attitude to work and to the head of his department which it was alleged had not shown any improvement. This warning, however, was found null and void by the appeals committee which met on 13th and 19th October, 1981, because Mr. Mbugua, the controller, had no authority to sign a warning letter. There is also a final warning letter issued to him on 23rd February, 1981. Here again it is alleged that he behaved in a very unbecoming manner by uttering personal attacks towards his head of department and levelling some unfounded accusations against him and he was warned that this was tantamount to gross misconduct. Both these warnings were found to be null and void by the appeals committee on the technical ground that the head of the department, Mr. Mbugua, had signed them.

The main reason that led to his dismissal was an allegation against him that he had neglected instructing students on practicals which he was required to do. This led to his being suspended on 2nd November, 1981, by the respondents' principal, Dr. Fouradoulas. In the suspension letter it is clearly stated that Mr. King'aru's conduct had been investigated by two senior members of staff and his head of department and it was established by them that he had shown negative attitude as regards the instruction of the students. Again he had shown disrespect and aggressive behaviour towards his head of department during the course of investigations. Dr. Fouradoulas had given Mr. King'aru an opportunity to present his opinion before the letter of suspension was issued. During the hearing Mr. Wangusi confirmed that on 30th October, 1981, seven students had complained to the panel of investigation regarding Mr. King'aru's conduct in that they had been ignored by Mr. King'aru and that they were not getting any instructions from him on the practical work in the stores.

Mr. King'aru appealed to the chairman of the catering levy trustees, through Dr. Fouradoulas, against the suspension. On 4th December, 1981, Dr. Fouradoulas terminated his appointment and wrote the following letter:

"We refer to the meeting of the Board of Catering Levy Trustees held on 30th November, 1981, in which the board examined your suspension and decided to terminate your services according to article 7.4.1. of your terms and conditions of service.

You will be paid one month's salary in lieu of notice together with any other dues owed to you by the college."

In this dispute the court finds that the respondents investigated properly all the allegations made against Mr. King'aru from time to time and gave him every opportunity of defending himself. To begin with the respondents' security officer, J. P. Otieno, investigated a complaint made by Mr. King'aru that he had been threatened after he had reported some dishonesty on the part of some senior members of the staff. Mr. Otieno told the court that he found that there was absolutely no substance in Mr. King'aru's allegations and he did not take them seriously. Then leaving apart Mr. King'aru's continuous misbehaviour towards Mr. Mbugua, his head of department, when the final incident took place when he neglected the students and refused to instruct them on the practicals again a full investigation was carried out and Mr. King'aru was given an opportunity of defending himself. When he was suspended he appealed to the chairman of the catering levy trustees finally his services had been terminated after his appeal had been rejected.

In these circumstances the court finds that it cannot interfere in the decision of the respondents in handing out a normal termination to Mr. King'aru. The Ministry of Labour investigation also found that he was at loggerheads with his departmental head and that he had all the chance of airing his grievances through the proper channel but he chose to adopt a hardline attitude against his superior. The Ministry found that his case had been dealt with fairly and that the termination should stand.

The respondents have offered him terminal benefits amounting to KSh. 10,955.95 and they forwarded him a cheque for this amount which Mr. King'aru refused to accept. The court finds that it cannot help him any more in this dispute and he is advised to go and collect the amount of KSh. 10,955.95 which the respondents have offered him. All other demands made by the claimants on his behalf concerning reinstatement, and loss of benefits, etc. are rejected.

Given in Nairobi on the 30th September, 1983.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 3805

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified, it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter 'B' prefixed to the official number.
