GAZETTE NOTICE No. 7704

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 67 OF 1994

Parties:
 Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
 and Nalin Nail Works Ltd.

Issue in Dispute:

- Minimum wages.
- General wages increase.
- House allowance.
- Safari allowance.
- Disturbance allowance.

The Kenya Engineering Workers Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Nalin Nail Works Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 11th January, 1995 and 22nd February, 1995 respectively. The parties relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 16th March, 1994, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 9th August, 1994, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The dispute arose in June, 1993, when the claimants presented to the respondents proposals for a supplementary agreement on monetary issues due to the high inflation in the country. As a result the parties met on 8th July, 1993, to negotiate the claimants proposals.

The claimants demands were rejected by the respondents. Subsequently a trade dispute was reported to the Minister for Labour and a conciliator was appointed to assist the parties to settle the matter. However, the parties could not agree and now the dispute is and now the dispute is before the court for consideration.

On the other hand the parties two years agreement which became effective on 1st May, 1992, expired on 30th April, 1994. In the meantime the parties commenced negotiations and a trade dispute has been declared on the same issues now before the court.

The claimants submissions:Minimum wages:

The claimants demanded that the minimum wages set up by the parties in 1991 be increased by 50 per cent during the time of supplementary agreement. In addition the claimants demanded a further increase of 30 per cent to cover the period May, 1993, to date. The claimants felt that the increasing sought would place newly employed workers at a level relatively comfortable with the present economic situation.

General wage increase:

The claimants have demanded a general wage increase of 35 per cent from May, 1993. The claimants stressed that the inflation during the period under review was over 200 per cent. As a result the workers are entitled to full compensation for the cost of living during the period 1992 to 1993. They felt that their demand is reasonable and the court should award the same.

House allowance:

The claimants have demanded a housing allowance of KSh.1,000 p.m. However, those employees currently being paid KSh.1,000 or more housing allowance should be given 25 per cent of their basic monthly salary as the new house allowance. The claimants stressed that the workers in the country spend 50 per cent of their salaries on rent alone. In addition landlords are now revising rent every six months. As a result, their demand will only be a subsidy to the actual rent. They prayed the court to award in their favour.

The workers under the wages guidelines are entitled to a housing allowance increase of 16 per cent for the period under review.

Safari allowance:

The claimants have demanded the following rates on safari allowance.

	KSh
Breakfast	60
Lunch	100
Dinner	120
Night-stop-over	250

The claimants asserted that the cost of food has become very expensive and it is only fair to award as demanded herein.

Disturbance allowance:

The claimants submitted that this item is not applicable for now. However, they averred that it is good to have an agreed amount on this item to cater for future developments. As a result, they proposed that when the respondents opt to open a branch or branches and post workers there, a disturbance transfer allowance of KSh.2,000 should be payable. They prayed the court to award in their favour.

The Respondents' submissions:

The respondents submitted that, they were not in a position to implement the one year review of the parties collective agreement due to difficulties which were largely brought about by liberalization. They asserted that the removal of price controls on major inputs and the depreciation of the shilling have adverse effects on their business performance. In addition massive importation of cheap products has made it difficult for them to compete effectively. They stressed that their company is faced with a situation where sales are dropping drastically, stock piling and the future being uncertain.

The respondents submitted that their employees fall under both the lower and middle wage earners income groups. In addition they claimed that inflation in 1992 and 1993 was not high as it has been in the subsequent years. The respondents felt that the issues listed herebelow should not be reviewed for the time being and so did not make any offer on them.

The respondents pleaded their inability to pay citing financial difficulties. They secondly felt that any increase of wages as demanded by the claimants would lead to massive redundancies.

The issues are:

- Minimum wages.
- House allowance.
- Safari allowance.
- Disturbance allowance.

In respect of wages the respondents felt that their employees were only entitled to 2 per cent as a token increase and to be off-set against any percentage agreed upon when the current collective agreement is reviewed.

The respondents requested the court to merge this dispute with the one for the main agreement. However, if the court is not inclined to do so they pleaded that the present dispute be awarded in their favour.

On 18th May, 1993, the Government directed that all trade unions and employers covered by collective agreements which are one year old and above start negotiations with immediate effect with a view to reviewing salaries and other terms of service.

This was to cushion the workers against the high inflation that had hit the country.

The claimants in pursuance of this directive have raised this dispute and are demanding a 35 per cent general wage increase this item being the most important among the issues in dispute.

The respondents on the other hand are offering an amazingly low figure of 2 per cent increase to be set off against any percentage which is going to be agreed upon when the current C.B.A. is reviewed.

The relevant period for compensation is between May, 1992 and April, 1993.

The P.R.D. report indicates that the workers would be entitled to an average wage boost of 38 per cent but if the 3/4 criteria is used they would be entitled to 32 per cent wage increase for the one year period.

The P.R.D. also make an interesting comment on the declining labour force trend in staff in that the management staff declined from 33 in 1990 to 22 in 1992 and then increased to 35 in 1993 and 37 in 1994. The ratio between managers and workers was one manager to nine workers in 1990 and in 1994 it is one manager to seven workers.

The report also reveals that the annual labour cost for management staff rose from 1.5 million shillings in 1990 to 2.3 million in 1994 an increase of 53.3 per cent within the four year period.

Considering all the evidence before it the court finds that the respondents have failed to convince the court on the question of their inability to pay more than 2 per cent wage increase.

The substantive agreement between the parties in being negotiated and a trade dispute has already been reported on it and it will be processed in due course.

In view of this the court has decided not to make any award on the issues of minimum wages, housing allowance, safari allowance and disturbance allowance.

On the issue of the general wage increase the court awards an increase of 15 per cent with effect from 1st May, 1993 in line with the aforesaid Government directive.

Dated the 30th March, 1995.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 32 OF 1994

Parties:

The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and
Kenya Bankers Co-operative Savings and Credit Society Ltd.

Issue in Dispute:

General wage increase.

Mr. J. W. Ouko for the claimants.

Mr. P. K. Kosgei, executive officer, F.K.E., for the respondents.

Place and dates of hearing: Nairobi, 23rd May, 1995.

AWARD

The respondents hereinafter called "the society" are a duly registered co-operative society under the Co-operative Societies Act, Cap. 490, Laws of Kenya, and they derive their membership from the banking industry. The total current membership stands at 12, 522, 23 of whom are members of the claimants hereinafter called "the union" and are affected by this dispute.

The society and the union entered into a recognition agreement on 19th March, 1993, and on 7th June, 1993, the union forwarded their proposals to the society for negotiations on 1st September, 1993, to which the latter made counter proposals. The parties held a series of meetings, culminating in the settlement of all the clauses of their first collective agreement. During their meeting held on 3rd November, 1993, the parties agreed that the two cadres of the employees, i.e. lower and middle cadres, would receive general wage increase of 21 per cent and 19 per cent respectively (Annexure I of the claimants' submissions). But when the representatives of the society sought clarification on the mode of implementation of the agreement and the general wage increase, the parties disagreed. According to the society, both the agreement and the salary increases were for a period of two years; whereas the union were of the view that the agreement was for a period of two years but the salary increases covered one year only.

On 4th November, 1993, the union reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and Manpower Development in accordance with section 4 of the Trade Disputes Act, Cap. 234, Laws of Kenya hereinafter referred to as "the Act", Annexure 11. The Minister took cognizance of the dispute and appointed Mr. L. W. Karuki of Provincial Labour Office, Nairobi, as the conciliator, Annexure III. Several meetings were held under the chairmanship of the conciliator, and during their last meeting which was held on 8th March, 1994, the parties' respective positions were as follows:

Union

1st year—20% lower cadre.
1st year—18% middle cadre.
2nd year—20% lower cadre.
2nd year—18% middle cadre

Society

1st year—15% lower cadre.
1st year—14% middle cadre.
2nd year—15% lower cadre.
2nd year—14% middle cadre

The parties disagreed and on 9th March, 1994, they raised a Notification of Dispute Form "A" under section 14 (7) of the Act for adjudication and determination of the dispute. The Notification of Dispute, together with the Statutory Certificate from the Labour Commissioner pursuant to section 14 (9) (e) of the Act, were received by the court on 28th March, 1994; and the dispute was listed for mention on 13th April, 1994, when Mr. Okoth Korombo appeared for the union and Mr. P. K. Kosgei appeared for the society. On that date, the parties were directed to submit their memoranda on or before 11th May, and 3rd June, 1994, respectively and the dispute was fixed for hearing on 14th June, 1994. The union submitted their memorandum on 16th May, 1994, to which the society filed their written reply statement on 9th June, 1994, and the dispute was heard on 14th and 30th June, 1994.

The union complained bitterly against the society for their delatory, obstinate and negative attitude and lack of commitment to assist their fellow employees. They added that the management committee of the society consists of bank employees, some of whom are union members and some are shop-stewards who have shown no interest in assisting their fellow employees by uplifting them financially. The union submitted that in view of the negative attitude on the part of the society, their members have been deprived of wage increment for a period of one year and other benefits which are enjoyed by other society members in the banking industry.

The union submitted further that under wage guideline IX, collective bargaining agreements should run for two years. The said wage guideline states as follows:

"The level of remuneration of any one section of workers should not be revised more than once every twenty-four months. However, voluntary revisions after one year or two years agreements will be allowed if there is substantial proof to the effect that the wage increase stipulated fail to compensate for price increase to the extent permitted in the guideline."

They, therefore, feel that the society were out to punish the employees for joining the union and yet management staff of the society were also members of the same union. The union argued further that the gap between the "haves" and the "have nots" was too wide and that it should be narrowed by the court. They went on to point out that the management staff of the society were recently awarded full compensation of 27 per cent and 29 per cent based on the same cost of living index and that their salaries are above those earned by the members of the union.

The union averred that the management staff of the society have always received their wage increases either through negotiation or court awards, and they should, therefore, be kind enough to assist their fellow union members financially. They urged the court to find that the society's plea that they were unable to meet their demand was unjustified and reject it. The union, therefore, prayed the court to uphold their demand of a general wage increase of 29 per cent per annum across the board.

In reply, the society denied that the dispute arose because they were reluctant to discuss matters affecting the members of the union. They stated that they have always responded to all requests by the union to discuss any matter affecting the welfare of their members. The society pointed out that during their meeting held on 3rd November, 1993, 21 per cent and 19 per cent wage increase were agreed upon for the lower and middle cadres respectively, spread-over the two year period. They were, therefore, amazed when the union turned round and refused to endorse the percentages by arguing that they (union) could only do so if the said percentages were for a period of one year whereas they (society) were of the opinion that the said percentages were to be spread-over a period of two years. The society accused the union of abandoning the last meeting between the parties by alleging that they were not getting a fair hearing from them (society) and that they (union) were being forced to accept wrong interpretation of the clause.

The society submitted that the interpretation of the clause under consideration was supported by the minutes of the meetings between the parties, and the interpretation of the clause by the union was an after-thought to suit their demands and should be rejected. They stated that during the last meeting chaired by the conciliator on 8th March, 1994, and bearing in mind the spirit of sound industrial relations, they offered to grant 15 per cent and 14 per cent wage increase each year, or 30 per cent and 28 per cent for the two year period, for the lower and middle cadres respectively, but the offers were rejected by the union for no apparent reason. The society stated further that they could not meet the union's inflated demands because they were operating strictly within the budget stipulated and approved by the annual delegates conference of the society members. They also pleaded inability to meet the unions demands since the society income was generated solely from low interest rates of 0.8 per cent charged on members' loans, unlike commercial banks which charge interest beyond 30 per cent.

The society, therefore, prayed the court to uphold their offer and reject the demand by the union in toto.

During their last meeting on 8th March, 1994, the parties' admitted and respective positions are as shown at page 3 hereinabove. In their submission, however, the society resisted the demand by the union mainly on the ground that their financial capacity would not bear any further general wage increase in view of the fact that they charge low interest rates of 0.8 per cent on loans granted to their members unlike commercial banks which charge interest over and above 30 per cent. Moreover, the latter are not comparable concerns. The P.R.D. report shows that, according to the cost of living index for the period under consideration the employees were entitled to a general wage increase of 31.3 per cent each year, or 62.63 per cent for the two year period. The report goes on to state that in 1993, the society's turnover was KSh.36,756,085 out of which KSh.2,921,751 was spent on wages in respect of unionizable and non-unionizable employees against a budget of KSh.4,500,000, leaving a retained surplus of KSh.2,002,182.

On careful consideration of the union's demand and the offer made by the society in the circumstances, and taking into account the entire P.R.D. report on this matter, we are of the opinion that the employees are entitled to a fair general wage increase for the period of the collective agreement under consideration. Accordingly we award and order as follows:

	1st year.	2nd year.
(i) Lower cadre	18 per cent	18 per cent
(ii) Middle cadre	17 per cent	17 per cent

Dated the 23rd May, 1995.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 7775

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 1,500 (local applications) or US$ 75 (foreign applications).

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

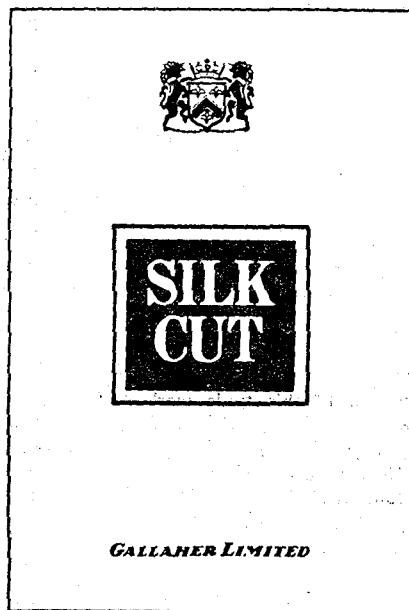

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Registration of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, Kenya House, Koinange Street, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Application for part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
