THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 22 OF 1985

Parties:
Kenya Local Government Workers' Union
and
Association of Local Government Employers

Issue in dispute:

Failure to implement Collective Agreement agreed and signed on 28th June, 1983 (effective date, 1st May, 1983).

THE Kenya Local Government Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Association of Local Government Employers shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 23rd, 24th, 29th May, and on 5th June, 1985, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions, the parties called the following witnesses:

Claimants':

Wasike Ndombi, the general secretary of the claimants.

Respondents':

A. M. Rapudo Odipo.

After hearing the parties' submissions and the evidence of the witnesses, the court ordered the parties to hold tripartite meetings with the Minister and the senior officials of the Ministry of Local Government and to take a realistic approach to the dispute with a view to settling it and that they should report back to the court on 19th June, 1985. On 19th June, 1985, the parties reported to the court that they had agreed on one issue of wage increment but the issue of effective date was still not resolved. The dispute was again mentioned on 24th and 25th July, 1985, when the court made an interim award.

INTERIM AWARD

By consent of the parties the court awards the following:

- (i) That the "L" shaped conversion, that is, one additional increment be applied to all employees, both salaried and non-salaried.
- (ii) That the "L" shaped conversion should be effective from 1st January, 1985, as an interim measure.
- (iii) That the interim award is made without prejudice to the proceedings before the court on the issue of effective date.

The parties were again ordered by the court on 11th November, 1985, to continue with consultations with the Ministry of Local Government. The parties were again heard on 29th April, 1986, when the hearing was adjourned to 19th and 20th June, 1986. On 19th June, the parties appeared before the court and requested the court to make an award by consent, as per their agreement reached in the presence of Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Local Government.

AWARD

3. By consent of the parties the court awards:

- (i) That the effective date of the unified terms and conditions of service remains 1st May, 1983.
- (ii) That following the implementation of the court's interim award of 25th July, 1985, which was effective from 1st January, 1985, payment of the balance of arrears (twenty months) be made in three instalments as follows—

 - (b) second instalment of seven (7) months be paid by 30th June, 1987.
 - (c) third and final instalment of six (6) months to be paid by 31st December, 1987.

Provided that those councils that can afford to pay these instalments within a shorter period can do so.

- (iii) The onus of financing the implementation of this agreement lies with individual local authorities.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 2733

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 63 OF 1985

Parties:

Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and

School Equipment Production Unit

Issue in dispute:

Termination of service of Andrew Kamau.

THE Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and School Equipment Production Unit shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 20th and 21st May, 1986 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 25th February, 1985, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 14th June, 1985 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant, Andrew Kamau was first employed as a carpenter grade III by the Kenya Science Teachers College from 22nd April, 1968, in the production unit. His salary was KSh. 553.35 per month. In 1977, the government decided to move the production unit from the college and a new company formed called School Equipment Production Unit who are now the respondents.

All employees including Mr. Kamau were transferred to the new company with their services unbroken, effective from 1st March, 1978. He served for a total of 10 years with both organizations which includes his service with the Kenya Science Teachers' College. On joining the respondents he was issued with a fresh letter of appointment at a salary of KSh. 1,440.50 per month. He served the respondents, until he was terminated on 29th December, 1978. The circumstances that led to his dismissal were that on a number of occasions, he was requested in writing for explanations for his unauthorized absences but he did not reply. He verbally told the respondents that he was ill and had been attending hospital for treatment.

During the hearing, the respondents gave, as an example, his absence on 15th and on 19th December, 1978 as the cases in point when again he totally failed to reply to the letters calling upon him to give reasons for his absences. But after nine (9) days silence on his part, the respondents decided to do away with his services.

He was offered the following terminal benefits which he declined to take:

- (i) Days worked up to and including 29th December, 1978.
- (ii) Uncollected salaries up to 28th December, 1978.
- (iii) One month's salary in lieu of notice.

Total benefits, KSh. 8,118.

Subsequent to these offers, Mr. Kamau found it necessary to report the matter to an official in the Ministry of Labour, then to the Domestic and Hotel Workers Union, the then claimant, who reported a trade dispute on 17th October, 1980. Finally, he engaged the services of Messrs. Gautama & Kibuchi, advocates, to handle the same case. Through the advocates, he was paid KSh. 8,185.15. Strangely enough there followed a silence of five years after which the present claimants raised the issue again. The dispute went through the normal industrial relations machinery and the finding and recommendation from the Ministry of Labour was that Mr. Kamau was properly terminated. This decision was totally unacceptable to the claimants and the matter was then referred to the court for a ruling.

The claimants in their submissions have vigorously refuted the respondents' allegation that Mr. Kamau was a malingerer who often absented himself from duty without permission, and in most cases failed to produce medical certificates in support of his absences when required. They accused the respondents of failing to observe the provisions in the collective agreement concerning sick leave and insisted that he had to be treated in a government aided hospital unless otherwise authorized by them.

The claimants on their part have stressed the difficulty of obtaining certificates by patients from the medical personnel due to pressure of work at the time of treatment. His failure to produce these certificates was, therefore, not deliberate but, however, resulted in salary deductions which the claimants now want refunded. The respondents finally informed Mr. Kamau that since he had exhausted his sick leave entitlement, he would get no pay for these absences. In regard to the length of time the dispute had taken, the claimants have attributed this to the change in the trade union entitled to represent Mr. Kamau. In any case, the claimants have pointed out that the first formal trade dispute was reported to the Minister on 19th November, 1983, and the same dispute featured in Cause No. 100 of 1983 dated 23rd May, 1984. So they had not really lost the track of the dispute at all as claimed by the respondents.

The claimants have asked the court to find that Mr. Kamau suffered a wrongful termination at the hands of the respondents and demanded that—

- (a) he be reimbursed all the hospital expenses he incurred during his time of employment;
- (b) he should further be paid his overtime for the month of September, totalling KSh. 983.55 and balance of salary for seven (7) months; and
- (c) he be compensated for the wrongful dismissal (two months' salary).

The court has carefully considered all aspects of this dispute and come to the conclusion that Mr. Kamau was getting treatment at Kenyatta Hospital on various dates between 12th June, to 15th December, 1978. One of the reasons for termination was his absence from work on 15th and 19th December, 1978, during which time he was actually attending hospital. It is further proved that Prof. Awori gave medical chits to Mr. Kamau confirming his treatment and operation performed on him. The court is satisfied that at times Mr. Kamau did not bring the required medical certificates but the respondents could have easily verified this information in writing direct from the doctor concerned. Considering Mr. Kamau's length of service, the court finds it strange that in the last leg of his employment with the respondents, there was a total lack of sympathy and understanding on the part of the respondents, and his statements were treated with suspicion. The court has further studied the medical chits advising the respondents of Mr. Kamau suffering from an allergy and suggesting a change of occupation. Prof. Awori to whom Mr. Kamau was referred to confirmed having treated Mr. Kamau but still the respondents doubted the doctor's professional views and his medical certificates. Mr. Kamau's health was of essence at the time, and respondents never treated him with sympathy and understanding. They denied him a chance to defend himself and even to appear with the claimants to state his case before his dismissal. Finally, the court has noted that the grievant has been paid overtime for September, plus the balance of seven (7) months' salary through his lawyers in settlement of part of his claim. The court would now like to deal with the refund of the medical claims which were rejected by the respondents on grounds that he went to a non-aided government hospital for treatment.

The court has given anxious thought to Mr. Kamau's claim for the refund of medical expenses incurred by him at the Aga Khan Hospital where he was referred to by Prof. Owuor. The court, however, must reject this claim because Mr. Kamau should have obtained the respondents' permission and confirmation that they would pay for such expenses for his treatment at a government non-aided hospital. The court also finds that he had exhausted all his sick leave entitlement during the material time and there is nothing due to him any more under this.

The court, however, finds the respondents' action in dismissing Mr. Kamau to have been extremely harsh and under the circumstances, amounts to it being wrongful. The court has, therefore, decided to award him compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered and the court accordingly awards that the respondents should pay him four months' salary by way of compensation. This compensation includes pay in lieu of notice.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 2734

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 115 OF 1985

Parties:

Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers

and

Messrs. Gethin and Dawson Limited

Issue in dispute:

Recognition.

THE Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Messrs. Gethin and Dawson Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 22nd May, 1985, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Minister for Labour referred this dispute to the court on 1st October, 1985, in accordance with section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act (Cap. 234).

The background of the respondents is that they were formerly running a garage and a petrol station in Kisii, in Nyanza Province since 1958 and had a collective agreement with the claimants. In August 1975, the respondents sold their business in Kisii to Gethin Dobie Limited and bought a similar business in Nairobi, Karen area, known as Karen Motors Limited which was a member of Nairobi Petrol Stations Association who had a collective agreement with Transport and Allied Workers' Union. The claimants already had a pending trade dispute with Karen Motors Limited over recognition. The respondents had the name changed from Karen Motors Limited and came to be known by their present name. They operate on a property leased to them by Kenya Shell Company Limited.

The claimants told the court that the trade dispute with the respondents had been pending for a period of fifteen years despite constant requests to the respondents for recognition so that their employees would be effectively represented by them.

The claimants continued to tell the court that they first recruited the employees of the respondents in accordance with the Trade Disputes Act and forwarded the check-off form to the respondents signed by 22 employees on 6th November, 1970, but the respondents refused to effect the check-off deductions and instead replied that they had dealings with the Transport and Allied Workers' Union. The claimants submitted that they were the right union to represent the respondents' employees because they had recruited a majority of them. The claimants informed the court that the main activity of the respondents is motor repair work and in fact it is the garage which owns the petrol station which is regarded by the respondents as a side line. The claimants also added that the respondents are registered by the registrar of business names as a motor vehicle garage. The claimants concluded their submissions by telling the court that the findings and recommendations by the Ministry of Labour were in their favour and the court should endorse the same.

The respondents on the other hand resisted very strongly the claimants demand for the recognition. The respondents told the court that when they bought Karen Motors Limited they found the latter had a recognition agreement with the Transport and Allied Workers' Union. The respondents continued to tell the court that when the claimants reported a trade dispute on 21st August, 1979, they responded by telling them that they were members of Nairobi Petrol Stations Association and by virtue of this, they had recognized the Transport and Allied Workers' Union and did not wish to recognize another trade union. The respondents submitted that their main activity was the sale of the petroleum products, and in fact they added that the petrol station owns the garage and without the sale of petroleum products there would be no garage.

The respondents further informed the court that the premises where they operate are leased from Shell Company Limited for the purpose of selling petroleum products and the bulk of their income is generated from the sale of the petroleum products and the garage is a side business. The respondents elaborated further by telling the court that the agreement for lease also known as "Operators' Licence" provides in part that:

We confirm that we have given you consent to sell products and services provided that your main activities do not interfere with the usual sale of petroleum products.

The respondents ended their submissions by telling the court that their paramount business is always to sell the petroleum products and any deviation from this line of business could lead to cancellation of their licence. They requested the court to reject the claimants' demands and they should be left with the Transport and Allied Workers' Union.

The court has carefully analysed the submissions made by both parties.

The court agrees with the Ministry of Labour's findings and recommendations which had found among other things that the claimants had recruited the respondents' employees as their members in accordance with the Trade Disputes Act and had acquired a simple majority necessary to make them to be recognized to represent their employees.

The court also noted the fact that the Transport and Allied Workers' Union had not taken any interest in this dispute at any time.

In view of the overwhelming evidence in favour of the claimants, the court has no alternative but to award in their favour. The court accordingly awards that the respondents should recognize the claimants and should sign the recognition agreement with them within three months of the date of this award.

Given on the 3rd July, 1986.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 146 OF 1985

Parties:

Tailors and Textiles Workers' Union
and
Bids Fabknits Limited (Nakuru)

Issues in dispute:

Night transport for the workers.
Minimum wages.
General wage increase.
Effective date of agreement.

THE Tailors and Textiles Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Bid Fabknits Limited (Nakuru) shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

The parties were heard in Nairobi on 19th May, 1986 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 18th October, 1985, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 30th December, 1985 together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

In May 1984, the respondents bought a spinning plant from Messrs. Nakuru Industries Limited based in Nakuru town. The business was bought as a going concern with a guaranteed employment of approximately sixty employees all holding junior grades. The respondents' business in the Nakuru plant involves the manufacture of yarn from acrylic fibre and the finished material is then transported to Nairobi to be used for the manufacture of sweaters at the Nairobi plant.

The claimants told the court that at the time the respondents bought the spinning section of Messrs. Nakuru Industries Limited, the respondents had an established similar plant in Nairobi and were a party to the Knitwear Group of Federation of Kenya Employers' agreement with the claimants. The claimants wrote to the respondents to implement the knitwear group agreement in full, effective from 1st March, 1984, including wages and house allowance or negotiate a separate agreement. The claimants further informed the court that despite the earlier intention by the respondents to implement the knitwear group agreement, the respondents wrote to the claimants in September 1984, informing them that they would not follow that agreement. The claimants persisted with their demands, and various negotiation meetings were held and a number of issues were settled. Sixteen causes of the agreement were accepted by both parties to be the same as those in the knitwear group agreement and other issues were settled at conciliation level.

Night Transport for Workers:

The claimants demanded that the respondents should give free transport to those workers working at night between 7 p.m. and 6 a.m. The claimants stressed in court that they did not agree with the respondents' suggestions that this item be kept pending until a suitable site is found for the factory around Ruiru as the respondents intend to move from Nakuru.

Minimum Wage and Wage Increase:

The parties settled these issues at their own level.

Effective date:

The claimant accused the respondents to have been responsible for the delays in negotiating the collective agreement and in view of this attitude of the respondents, the claimants want the effective date to be 1st June, 1984.

The respondents told the court that their spinning plant is still inside the premises of Nakuru Industries Limited and they pay rent to that company. They have plans to transfer the plant to Ruiru in June or July 1986. The respondents complained in court saying that before they had recovered from their major investment in Nakuru, the claimants were asking them to implement the knitwear group agreement in relation to their Nakuru employees, or negotiate a new agreement. The respondents continued to tell the court that after considering the claimants' demands for a fortnight, they wrote to the claimants that the implementation of the knitwear group agreement would put them at a disadvantage. The respondents maintained that despite the earlier intention of the claimants to negotiate a new agreement with them, they became recalcitrant and reported a trade dispute on 16th November, 1984, on alleged refusal by the respondents to implement the knitwear group agreement.

Night Transport for the Workers:

The respondents told the court that this item should be kept pending until they are well established at Ruiru when they would consider the demand.

Effective date:

The respondents would like the effective date to be 1st May, 1985.

The court has carefully considered the submissions presented by both parties. The court appreciates the efforts made by both parties to negotiate despite the fact that a trade dispute had been reported to the Ministry of Labour. The court notes that there were twenty-two (22) issues pending when the dispute reached the Ministry of Labour and during this time the parties were able to settle eighteen (18) issues before the dispute reached the court, and before the parties appeared in court the parties had settled another two issues leaving only two issues to be decided by the court. The court rules on the two issues as follows:

Night Transport:

The court agrees with the respondents that since they are moving from the precincts of Nakuru Industries Limited to a new site in Ruiru in June or July 1986, it would be difficult to assess the transport problems facing workers until the respondents are well established there. The court rules that this item should be left in abeyance until the respondents start the operations at Ruiru when the claimants can raise this demand.

Effective date:

The court awards that the effective date should be 1st January, 1985.

Given on the 30th June, 1986.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 148 OF 1985

Parties:

Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers
and Westlands Electrical Services Ltd.

Issues in dispute:

Underpayment and arrears of Joshua Akungu Malowa, upgrading of Joshua Akungu Malowa.

THE Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Westlands Electrical Services Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 11th June, 1986, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The claimants also called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath:

Joshua Akungu Malowa, Francis Kamau, Francis Ogola.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 6th January, 1986, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 31st December, 1985, along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents are members of the Electrical Contractors Group of the Federation of Kenya Employers and are based at Westlands, Nairobi. The respondents are a small firm and employ only seven (7) electricians who do electrical repairs and installations. They are registered as class "A" electrical contractors.

This dispute concerns an electrician, Joshua Malowa, who passed his Government Trade Test Grade II, in 1982, and he is demanding upgrading of his position from untested electrician group III to group V and payment of arrears from the date he passed his test on 26th April, 1982.

The claimants stated that the parties have a collective agreement which covers groups and salary points, for all the employees in the industry. The claimants told the court that the grievant in this dispute passed his trade test II in 1982, and that the respondents refused to upgrade him to group V of the parties agreement which carries a basic minimum of KSh. 1,523. At present the respondents have placed the grievant in group II which is for office messengers and electrician mates. The claimants accused the respondents of using the grievant's skill and knowledge without compensating him adequately. The claimants called the grievant Joshua Malowa, Francis Kamau and Francis Ogola as witnesses and they gave evidence in support of the claimants' demand.

Giving evidence in court, Joshua Malowa stated among other things that he knew his work well and that he was not supervised by anyone. In fact he claimed to be the best among all the electricians working for the respondents. Mr. Malowa stated that he had carried out several delicate jobs alone to the satisfaction of his employers but when he asked for upgrading they refused saying that there was no vacant post to which he could be promoted to. He thought promotion and upgrading are two different things.

Francis Kamau who is a supervisor as well as the claimants shop steward in the respondents' undertaking told the court that although he was an untested electrician, he had 19 years of experience. He further stated that he supervised Joshua Malowa and one other workmate. Mr. Kamau did not agree that Joshua Malowa was the best electrician of the lot. He claimed he was the best.

Francis Ogola who holds a trade test III told the court that he did not agree with Joshua Malowa that he (Mr. Malowa) was the best electrician. Mr. Ogola complains that although he was a supervisor he was not paid anything extra for that.

The respondents submitted that the claimants have disregarded the parties collective agreement clause on promotion which states as follows:

"(a) Promotion shall be at the managements discretion.

(b) Whilst it is recognized that this is not a negotiable matter it is recorded for information that where vacancies arise, the group gives first consideration to existing employees taking account such consideration as relative ability, experience, qualifications and length of service."

The respondents did not agree with the claimants that upgrading was different from promotion but stated that it was one and the same thing. The respondents stated further that the claimants demand in this dispute was beyond the claimants' powers as promotion was the prerogative of the management. The respondents prayed that the claimants' demand be rejected.

The court notes that when Joshua Malowa passed his trade test III in December 1981, the claimants took up the matter with the respondents on his behalf and the parties then agreed that he should be upgraded to group 2. The court wonders why the claimants did not insist at that time that Mr. Malowa should be placed in group 4 which is for a electrician trade test grade III or equivalent experience. If their interpretation is to be upheld in this dispute the court wonders why they did not apply the same interpretation in December 1981.

After careful consideration of the submissions by the parties the court finds that the respondents are engaged in a small business with seven employees only and as such promotion opportunities or upgrading of staff are limited indeed.

Unfortunately for the claimants the collective agreement was not translated into a legal instrument, through a wages council order. If it had been done then there would have been no problem.

As the matter stands at present there is no automatic promotion in view of clause 14 of the Collective Agreement. The promotion is management prerogative as stated clearly.

The claimants demands for Mr. Malowa's upgrading and payment of arrears amounting to approximately KSh. 14,000 are rejected.

No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representation of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.
