GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 307

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 90 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Building Construction, Civil Engineering and Allied Trades Workers Union
and Parkash Building & Construction Ltd.

Issues in dispute:

- Hours of work and overtime arrears.
 - Wages.
 - House Allowance (Increment and arrears).
- INTERPRETATION APPLICATION

RULING

THE court has carefully considered all aspects of this application and rules that the respondents were required to give workers a 10 per cent wage increase per year during the agreed two years of the collective agreement and if the respondents had granted wage increases to the workers during this period they are entitled to set off such increases against the court award as the respondents denied that they were merit increases and contended that they had to give the increases under pressure from the workers.

The court notes that, the employees were entitled to a housing allowance of Sh. 155 per month with effect from 1st May, 1985, as per court's award. The court also finds that the workers were paid Sh. 125 per month during the two years period that was in dispute and rules that the workers are entitled to be paid Sh. 30 per month being the balance due to them. Accordingly the court directs that the workers should be paid forthwith their arrears arising from the court award on housing allowance.

The court established that there was no dispute on the item of hours of work since the employees were putting in 45 hours in conformity with five (5) day week. But prior to that they put in 50 hours per week Monday to Saturday. The situation has now reverted to a six day working week.

The court notes that this issue was not agreed or decided by the parties. The changes that took place have been taken care of by the relevant legal notices and were beyond the parties control. The parties claims if any are therefore subject to these legal requirements.

Given at Nairobi 22nd January, 1988.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 24 OF 1987

Parties:

Transport and Allied Worker's Union (K)
and

Ngomeni Bus Services Limited

Issue in dispute:

"Wrongful Termination of Services of Joash C. Mzami."

THE Transport and Allied Workers Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Ngomeni Bus Services Ltd., shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 3rd September, 1987, and 11th January, 1988, and relied on their verbal and written submissions. In addition the following witnesses were called to give evidence on oath.

Claimants.—Joash C. Mzami.

Respondents.—Moses M. Mutunga.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 3rd December, 1986, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 2nd April, 1987, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The court has carefully considered all aspects of this dispute and the evidence before it and finds that Mr. Mzami was granted fourteen (14) days annual leave in April 1984, and that he failed to resume duty on expiry of his leave.

It is obvious that Mr. Mzami was aware that he was going to be declared redundant as his name was on the list which was submitted to the Minister for Labour for approval. Under these circumstances it is only logical that he should seek other employment while on leave and he was lucky he secured another job and consequently failed to report on duty on 27th April, as required. He however came in May for a testimonial—the respondents application to declare 37 employees had been rejected by the Minister for Labour in the meantime. The court finds that it is because of this development that the grievant has brought this claim against the respondents. The court finds that the claim raised by the grievant has no merit at all—in fact the claimants themselves were not sure of what to claim as at the Ministry of Labour investigation they claimed Sh. 31,907.30 and now in court they are claiming Sh. 61,451.10. How can a grievant be so much off the mark if he was raising a genuine claim? It is just an attempt to get something out of the respondents. The court cannot allow such attempts to succeed and the court must reject this bogus claim of Sh. 61,451.10. The grievant is entitled to only Sh. 500 as recommended by the Ministry of Labour.
