GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3130

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 116 OF 1983

Parties:

Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers and Venus Metal (Africa) Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Recognition.

THE Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Venus Metal (Africa) Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 3rd May, 1984, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 7th March, 1983, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 15th December together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The claimants have brought this dispute against the respondents for recognition on the ground that their registered constitution caters for the interest of employees employed in an undertaking like that of the respondents, that they have recruited more than 50 per cent of their employees and there is no other rival trade union claiming to represent the respondents' employees.

The respondents have very strongly resisted this demand on the ground that their trade or industry was not in any way concerned with any manufacturing activity or other activities connected with metal trade or metal industry. They maintained that they were general merchants dealing in general hardware, building materials, sanitarywares, etc.

The respondents produced their licences which clearly confirmed that they are engaged in the import/export wholesale and retail trade. They further pointed out that they had fourteen unionizable employees in their employment and sixteen management staff making a total of thirty and strongly denied over having received the check-off list from the claimants. Later in the proceedings the claimants' representatives conceded that they had not submitted the original check-off list to the respondents as they feared the workers would be victimized but they produced this list during investigations. They added that the workers paid their union dues direct at their offices.

The court has no reason to doubt that the claimants have recognition agreements with E. Auto Tools Ltd. and United Auto Tools Ltd. although both these firms are not manufacturing metal products. The point, however, to be remembered is that when it comes to an Industrial Court award which creates a precedent, the court has to come to its decisions taking into account the existing industrial relations system and practice in the country and the evidence that is produced before it during the hearing. The court finds that the claimants' constitution under rule 2 (a) states:

"The union shall consist of workers in metal industry with all its branches and including in particular the following workers' group: motor trade group, electrical trade group, tyre manufacture and retreading group, battery manufacturing group and allied industries to the metal trade."

The court has carefully studied the above constitution and finds that a firm dealing in wholesale and retail trade cannot be considered to fall within the definition of allied industries to the metal trade as every shop invariably deals with metal products.

The only point in favour of the claimants in this dispute is that they have recruited the respondents' employees but that point in itself cannot persuade the court to come to a decision which would be patently wrong.

The court finds that the Ministry of Labour's finding and recommendation leaves a lot to be desired in this dispute. The Ministry's finding states that there are thirty members of the claimants whereas there are only fourteen unionizable employees and the recommendation seems to be mainly based on the fact that there is no other trade union which is interested in representing the interest of the respondents' employees!

The court would like to point out that an employer is within his rights to state that he will establish a relationship with a trade union which is the proper trade union for his industry. This is exactly what the respondents are doing in this case.

The court has previously mentioned that it has to be extremely careful in cases of this nature concerning recognition otherwise it will create a lot of mix-up and confusion in the trade union movement in the country and their relationship with the various employers.

After carefully considering all aspects of this matter the court finds that the claimants' demand for recognition against the respondents is not valid and the court accordingly rejects it.

Given in Nairobi the 13th August, 1984.

Judge.

Member.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 3138

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified, it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.
