GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1458THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 26 OF 1990

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers and

Insurance Group of F.K.E.

Issue in dispute:

Refusing to implement an Industrial Court Award Cause No. 31 of 1980, and the interpretation dated 14th April, 1981, on the same issue.

INTERPRETATION APPLICATIONRuling

The court announced its award in the above dispute on 17th October, 1990; but, by an exchange of correspondence during the course of their negotiations for the implementation of the award and registration of a new collective agreement, the parties have put forward different interpretations on the annual wage increases. At page 9 of its award, the court had granted annual wage increases as follows:

...all the unionizable employees in the respondents' undertakings should receive annual wage increases of 10 per cent for the year 1989, i.e. on their salaries as at 31st December, 1988, and a further 10 per cent for the year 1990, i.e. on their salaries as at 31st December, 1989, or 20 per cent for the two year-period.

When preparing a draft of a new collective agreement between the parties, the claimants incorporated therein the court's award of annual wage increases of 10 per cent each year, or 20 per cent for the two (2) years, and the general wage increases of 11 per cent each year, or 22 per cent for the two (2) years period, which was purportedly negotiated and agreed to by the parties at their own level in November, 1989. The claimants stated that the general wage increases to which the parties had voluntarily signified their agreement by appending their signatures thereon in November, 1989, was not an issue in this dispute, and the court neither considered nor varied it in its award.

The respondents strongly opposed the claimants' interpretation on the ground that the draft agreement was not in accordance with the court award. They contended that when the parties negotiated for the renewal of their 1987/88 collective agreement, it was agreed that the notches should be abolished for higher general wage increases, i.e. 11 per cent each year, or 22 per cent for two years, but during the hearing of this dispute, the claimants rejected it as null and void because the same had not been registered with the court. The respondents argued further that the application before the court amounted to an indirect appeal against the court award. They pointed out that the claimants' demand was exorbitant and if allowed it will cripple the industry or lead to some redundancies. The respondents urged the court to reject the claimants' demand and interpretation.

In this application, the claimants are interpreting the award to mean that the employees would be entitled to 21 per cent each year i.e. 10 per cent as per the court award and 11 per cent general wage increases, which the parties purportedly negotiated and agreed to at their own level in November, 1989—or 42 per cent for the two (2) years period. In support of this application for interpretation, the claimants forwarded to the court a table under cover of their letter dated 13th February, 1991, in which they alleged that "during the life of the agreement for the period 1983/84, wage increases totalling 23 per cent for the first year and 25 per cent second year."

The respondents promptly denied on 14th February, 1991, that such an agreement existed between the parties and challenged the claimants to produce it, but the latter failed to do so. The court has endeavoured to compute the percentage increases for the period 1983/84, and it is not satisfied that the claimants' method of computation is correct.

The court had considered all aspects of this dispute and would like to draw the attention of the parties to the Planning and Research Division's (P.R.D.) report quoted at page 8 of the award which shows that the employees' entitlement over the period under consideration is 10.4 per cent each year or 20.8 per cent for the two years period. Under the circumstances, if the claimants' interpretation is upheld then the employees would be getting wage increases at more than double rate each year of their entitlement under the guidelines. This magnitude of the wage increases which is sought by the claimants is unrealistic, and its effect if allowed would either bring the industry to a halt or cause massive redundancies.

The court, therefore, rules that the claimants' interpretation is incorrect, and accordingly directs the parties to immediately implement the annual wage increases of 10 per cent each year, or 20 per cent spread over the two (2) years period as awarded by the court.

Finally, the court hopes that this matter is now put to rest and the parties should proceed with the negotiation of their next collective agreement and register it with the court without further delay to save the employees the agony of financial embarrassment.

TO THE KENYA GAZETTE

THE following notes are for the guidance of persons submitting "copy" for inclusion in the Kenya Gazette, Supplement, etc.:

- (1) The Kenya Gazette contains notices of a general nature which do not affect legislation. They are, therefore, submitted to the Government Printer directly.

All "copy" submitted for publication should be prepared on one side of an A4 sheet no matter how small the notice or Act, each page being numbered, and should be typewritten with double spacing. Copy should be clear, legible and contain a minimum of alterations.

Particular attention should be paid to the following points:

- i) Signature must be clarified by means of rubber-stamping or typing the name of the signer in capital letters.
- ii) Dates must be correct and filled in where necessary.
- iii) Care should be taken to ensure that all headings to notices and references to legislation are up to date and conform with the Revised Edition of the Laws of Kenya.
