THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 37 OF 1985

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and

Kenya Canners Limited

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Rading Makinda.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Canners Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 9th December, 1985 and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath.

Claimants.—Rading Makinda.Respondents.—Jonathan Muinde.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 4th June, 1984, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 23rd April, 1985, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Joseph Rading Makinda was employed by the respondents on 15th June, 1962, in the position of a boiler attendant. His duties involved care of the boiler and making sure that the boiler room is not left without a responsible person. At the time he was dismissed from service his salary was KSh. 1,363.65 per month.

The claimants informed the court that during 1975 the respondents installed a boiler which required a person with some experience to operate and therefore decided to promote Rading Makinda to the position of boiler operator and entrusted him with this work. On 1st March, 1982, he reported on duty at 3.00 a.m. worked up to 11.00 a.m. when he broke for lunch which lasted for 30 minutes. He resumed duty at 11.30 a.m. when the next person left for lunch and reported back at 12.00 noon. Meanwhile Mr. Makinda continued with his duty and at around 12.45 p.m. a railway wagon brought oil. Mr. Makinda could not attend to this wagon because he was alone in the boiler room where he was also expected to sound the hooter. The claimants further stated that although Mr. Makinda had sounded the hooter the management of the company denied having heard the hooter as they alleged that he was asleep. The management however dismissed him and further forced him to write a letter of resignation which was considered unusual. The claimants therefore demanded that Mr. Makinda be reinstated as his record was clean and he was due to retire soon.

The respondents confirmed that Rading Makinda was dismissed on 2nd March, 1982, at 1.10 p.m., when he was found by his foreman sleeping while he was supposed to be attending to and operating a boiler. The foreman even had to remove his hat before awaking him. The complainant realizing that he committed a serious offence decided to tender his resignation. The respondents rejected the resignation and proceeded to issue the complainant with a letter of dismissal. The dismissal of the complainant was based on the parties agreement paragraph 15(e) which stated as follows:

"An employee shall be liable to instant dismissal for a serious offence. Serious offences shall be deemed to be..... sleeping on duty to be defined as when an employee if found to be asleep when working at a danger point within the factory premises for example whilst attending power driven machines in running operations, retorts and boiler or whilst guarding the company's property which is the responsibility of the company's guards on watch duty."

The respondents therefore asked the court to uphold their decision to dismiss Mr. Makinda as he was found sleeping in a dangerous place in the factory and anything could have happened as a consequence.

The court notes that Mr. Makinda's record during his 19 years service with the respondents was good. The court got a clear impression that Mr. Makinda merely dozed for a couple of minutes and considering that he had reported for duty at 3 a.m. in the morning makes his offence less serious. Moreover, there is no evidence that any worker reported late, which they would have done if the hooter had not been sounded.

After careful consideration of all the submissions and evidence the court finds the respondents decision not to accept Mr. Makinda's resignation and dismissing him summarily to be extremely harsh under the circumstances. The court therefore sets aside his dismissal and directs the respondents to accept Mr. Makinda's resignation and pay him all his benefits as laid down in the parties collective agreement for his 19 years service.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 39 OF 1985

Parties:

Kenya Canners Ltd.

and

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful dismissal of Silvester Muiruri.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Canners Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 10th December, 1985 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 4th June, 1984, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 23rd April, 1985 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant was employed by the respondents on 20th January, 1975 as a cook in their canteen as a seasonal employee. On 1st April, 1975, he was confirmed on permanent terms and he was dismissed on 27th November, 1978.

The claimant's main argument on this case is that the respondents were grooming somebody to take his job. They further accused the respondents' personnel manager of practising tribalism. They lastly requested the court to reinstate their member.

The respondents on the other hand strongly refuted the allegations made by the claimants that Mr. Muiruri was victimized and that the personnel manager was practising tribalism as alleged by the claimants. The respondents further told the court that the incident which led to his dismissal was that on the 27th November, 1978, he intentionally neglected his duties and disobeyed his supervisor.

After careful consideration of the parties submissions, the court finds that the offences committed by Mr. Muiruri were extremely serious. The court also notes that he had collected his final dues and acknowledged that the payment was in full and final settlement of his claim against the respondents. The court finds that all claims made on behalf of Mr. Muiruri to be an after-thought and upholds respondents decision to summarily dismiss him. The hearing of this dispute was an utter waste of court's precious time.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 220

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 40 OF 1985

Parties:

Kenya Canners Ltd.

and

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful dismissal of Harun Karuru.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Canners Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 10th and 13th December, 1985, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath.

Claimants.—Harun M. Karuru.

Respondent.—E. N. Kaboe.

AWARD

3. The Notification of the Dispute Form "A" dated 5th June, 1984, duly signed by both parties was received by the court on 23rd April, 1985, together with statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Harun Karuru was employed by the respondents on 9th April, 1976, as casual labourer and thereafter confirmed as a record clerk in the Warehouse Department on 1st February 1978, drawing a monthly salary of KSh. 545.10 plus house allowance of KSh. 70.

The claimants opened their submissions by telling the court that prior to the incident which led to his dismissal, Mr. Karuru was working in the receiving section and issued with a dust coat only. Later he was transferred to the storage section and was not issued with the protective helmet as suggested by the respondents. The claimants further told the court that on 23rd March, 1979, at about 3.45 p.m., the head of the department, Mr. Kaboe, noticed that Harun Karuru was not wearing the safety helmet as required and instead he had on his bush hat. The claimants accused Mr. Kaboe of abusing Harun Karuru calling him "Stupid, take off your bush hat", without trying to know why he was not wearing the helmet. The claimants submitted that Mr. Karuru should have been warned in the first place and accused Mr. Kaboe and the shop steward of having conspired to suspend him. The claimants informed the court that when workers are issued with protective gears by the respondents they are required to sign against their names. They challenged the management to produce records in court to prove that Mr. Karuru had been issued with the helmet and where he had signed for it. The claimants stressed that in the absence of such records Mr. Karuru should be given the benefit of doubt. Lastly the claimants accused the management of the respondents to have been reluctant either to settle this case out of court or to sign Form "A" to enable this case to be brought to court. The claimants blamed the investigator appointed by the Minister of Labour to have been biased against them. Finally the claimants requested the court to reinstate Mr. Karuru to his job.

The respondents countered the claimants demands by telling the court that Mr. Karuru had committed a serious offence and he deserved instant dismissal. The respondents quoted paragraph 15(d) of the parties collective agreement which provides:

"An employee shall be liable to instant dismissal for a serious offence. A serious offence shall be deemed to be..... insubordination or conduct which violates common decency or morality".

The respondents told the court that on 23rd March, 1979, at 3.45 p.m., at the storage facility, Harun Karuru was found by his head of department wearing a bush hat instead of the safety helmet issued to him. The respondents informed the court that the company rules require all employees working at the storage facility to wear protective helmets. The respondents went further to say that when Harun Karuru was instructed to remove the bush hat and wear the helmet he blatantly refused. They further informed the court that it was an offence by the management to allow workers to work without wearing protective gears where they are supposed to wear them and that the management could be prosecuted under the Factories Act. The respondents further said it was mandatory for the management to enforce this rule and any employee who breaches this rule is liable to instant dismissal. Lastly, the respondents told court that any employee refusing to wear protective gear was subjecting the respondents to a civil liability in case of injury in the course of his duties. The respondents rejected the evidence adduced in court by Harun Karuru that he had not been issued with the helmet. The respondents requested the court to uphold their decision to dismiss Harun Karuru.

The court has carefully analysed the submissions presented in court by both parties and notes that the crux of the matter centred on the allegations that Harun Karuru was found by his head of department in storage section without a protective helmet contrary to the company rules. On the other hand the claimants maintained that their member had not been issued with the safety helmet as alleged by the respondents, and therefore he was victimized. While giving evidence in court, Harun Karuru appeared a truthful witness and stood firm by telling the court that prior to this incident he had worked in the receiving section where he had been issued with a dust coat only and continued wearing his bush hat as the helmet was not necessary. He further told the court that he was later transferred to the storage section and was not issued with the helmet as alleged by the respondents. He continued wearing the bush hat until he was confronted by his boss and that is when the problem started.

The respondents witness Mr. Kaboe, while giving evidence in court was challenged by the claimants to produce documentary evidence to prove that Harun Karuru had been issued with the helmet, but he simply told the court that he had nothing to produce in the form of documents to back up his evidence even though he insisted that Mr. Karuru had been issued with the helmet and that he had intentionally refused to wear it. He told the court that when workers are issued with protective gears they are not required to sign for them. The court finds that the evidence of Mr. Kaboe to be rather unsatisfactory. The court cannot believe that a well organized company like the respondents', a subsidiary of an international company, can simply issue items like protective gears to its employees without proper records..

After careful consideration of the parties submissions and the evidence before it, the court finds that the action by the respondent to dismiss Harun Karuru to be wrongful and the court awards that he be paid four months salary by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 43 OF 1985

Parties :

Kenya Canners Ltd

and

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers

Issue in dispute :

Wrongful dismissal of Miss Virginia Muraya.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Canners Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 13th December, 1985, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The claimants also called Miss Muraya to give evidence on oath.

AWARD

3. The Notification of the Dispute Form "A" dated 6th June, 1984, duly signed by both parties was received by the court on 23rd April, 1985, together with statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents employed Miss Virginia Muraya on 17th January, 1972, as a headlady in the Department of Cannery and at the same time she worked as a Time-Sheet Clerk. She was dismissed by the respondents on 2nd February, 1979. The claimants had very little to say in this case, as they simply told the court that Miss Muraya was accused of having altered the time sheet batch No. 51 purporting it to be a genuine time sheet prepared by the Kenya Canners for the daily attendance of workers. The claimants pointed out that Miss Muraya altered the time sheet because she was following the instructions of the supervisor and that she did not know she was committing an offence. The claimants further told the court that it was her duty to record the time sheet for the daily attendance of workers brought to her by the supervisor or foreman and it was not her duty to supervise workers. However the claimants admitted in court that their member was arrested with two other employees namely Peter Ngethe and Mr. Muiruri because of the alteration of the time sheet and they were charged in the District Magistrate's Court, Thika under criminal case No. 119/79 and she was found guilty and fined KSh. 1,000 or three months imprisonment. The claimants continued to tell the court that Miss Muraya paid the fine and she was allowed to appeal and subsequently the appeal was heard in the High Court and the conviction was quashed and had her money refunded in the Lower Court. Lastly, the claimants told the court that since Miss Muraya was proved innocent by the High Court they could not see any reason why she should not be reinstated to her former job or another job within the respondents' organization. The claimants ended their submission by pleading to the court to reinstate her.

The respondents countered the submissions by the claimants by maintaining that Miss Muraya was a dishonest employee and deserved the dismissal meted to her by the management. They further told the court that prior to this incident which led to her dismissal, Virginia had committed similar offences and that on one occasion she had violated her terms of employment by falsely booking in her favour 2½ hours of service without having worked. The respondents further told the court that on 3rd February, 1979, Miss Muraya was jointly charged with two other employees of forgery contrary to penal code section 349 under criminal case No. 119/79 and the charge-sheet read as follows :

"On unknown day between 29th February, and 21st December 1979 at Kenya Canners, Thika, in Murang'a District of Central Province jointly with intent to deceive forged certain time sheet batch No. 51 purporting to be genuine time sheet prepared at Kenya Canners for the daily attendance of workers."

The respondents further told the court that Virginia pleaded guilty in the Lower Court and fined KSh. 1,000 or three months imprisonment. The respondents pointed out that Miss Muraya paid the fine and appealed against the conviction of the Lower Court. The respondents continued to say that the appeal was allowed, heard and Miss Muraya's conviction was quashed because during mitigation before the Lower Court, she stated that she had been instructed by her foreman to falsify the documents.

The respondents submitted that the matter started on 28th February, 1978, when one of the employees of Kenya Canners, Peter Ngethe, did not report on duty and that on the same day he assaulted Mr. Joseph Binda using a knife and he was arrested and charged in District Magistrate's Court under criminal case No. 2868/78, and when he was out on bond he went and approached the foreman in Engineering Department, Mr. Muiruri, and Virginia Muraya, the time sheet clerk, to fill his name in the time sheet batch No. 51 of that day to show he was on duty on that day from 4.30 p.m. to 1.00 a.m. simply to establish an alibi. The respondents told the court that the matter went out of hand for the three conspirators when Peter Ngethe's case came for further hearing on 2nd February, 1979 during which time the accused Peter Ngethe admitted in court that he was never on duty on 28th February, 1978 and this led to the arrest of Virginia and two other conspirators. The respondents finally submitted that Virginia Muraya was an accomplice to the criminal offence and she knew that it was wrong to falsify records and yet she participated and condoned it. Under the circumstances the respondents requested the court to uphold their decision to dismiss Virginia Muraya.

In this dispute it is quite clearly established on Miss Muraya's own admission in court that she falsified the attendance register showing that a fellow worker was on duty on the material day and time in order to provide him with an alibi in a criminal case. The fact that she did so on the instructions of her senior officer does not absolve her from this gross misconduct. She knew perfectly well that what she was doing was completely irregular and against the company rules. In these circumstances the fact that she was acquitted on appeal in the criminal case on purely technical grounds does not help her at all in this case.

After careful consideration the court finds that she fully deserved a dismissal. The court accordingly rejects all the claimants' demands asking for her reinstatement, etc.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 222

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 73 OF 1985

Parties :

Kenya Bakers and Confectioners Workers Union
and

Aurora Baking Co. (1975) Ltd.

Issues in dispute :

Wages; Effective date and duration; Duration of Casual Labour; Night-shift Allowance; Housing Allowance; Leave Travelling Allowance; Redundancy; and Annual paid leave.

THE Kenya Bakers and Confectioners Workers Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Aurora Baking Co. (1975) Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 27th November, 1985, and 2nd December, 1985, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 8th March, 1985, duly signed by the parties, was received by the court on 26th July, 1985, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The dispute before the court has risen as a result of the parties attempt to revise their latest collective agreement which was in force with effect from 1st July, 1979, for a period of two years expiring on 30th June, 1981. The respondents have 34 permanent unionizable employees out of whom 15 are currently union members.

It is indeed a sad state of affairs that although the next collective agreement should have been implemented with effect from 1st July, 1981, the parties were not able to conclude the matter until the dispute was referred to the court on 26th July, 1985.

It is ironical that the matter should have been delayed so much and the parties involved in such serious confrontation in a dispute they knew involves the welfare of 34 unionizable permanent workers and in addition to these the respondents employ an average of 20 casual workers daily.

The court would like to sound a warning that employers who cause delay in revising collective agreements and later plead difficulties in paying arrears should not expect any sympathy from the court. The court notes that the workers in Kenya are making a big sacrifice in that they have to struggle without getting full compensation for the ever increasing cost of living as even the revised guidelines do not allow them full compensation.

The claimants are demanding a general wage increase of KSh. 148 for the first year and a further KSh. 190 for the second year of the agreement. They would like the effective date to be 1st July, 1981, and it should remain in force for a period of four years.

The respondents have proposed to grant employees KSh. 50 for the first year and KSh. 60 for the second year of the agreement. On the effective date they have proposed 1st July, 1984, and that the duration be any period the court may deem appropriate.

On the issue of house allowance the claimants demand that the current house allowance of KSh. 75 per month should be increased to KSh. 250. The respondents have proposed 15 per cent of the basic wages to be the housing allowance.

On the leave travelling allowance the respondents want present KSh. 85 to be maintained or to grant an individual worker reimbursement of expenses incurred travelling to and from leave and have rejected the claimants demand that it should be increased to KSh. 250.

The current annual paid leave entitlement is 21 working days which the claimants want increased to 24 working days. The respondents have increased the current entitlement of 21 to 23 working days.

Similarly on the redundancy the respondents have increased the current provision of 12 days each completed year of service in the event of redundancy to 13 days and have rejected the claimants demand of 15 days.

In regard to night-shift allowance the respondents proposal is to reduce the current entitlement of 10 per cent to 5 per cent and the claimants demand is that it should be increased to 20 per cent of the daily basic wage for seven days continuous work.

The respondents on the issue of the duration of casual labour would like the duration to be a maximum of six months continuous service from the date of initial engagement. The claimants demand that employment on casual basis be limited to one month's period from the date of first appointment.

The court would now like to examine the parties' submissions on their respective demands on the aforesaid issues.

The respondents have pleaded that by the end of 1984 they had sustained a loss of about KSh. 580,430 which was due to various factors like contracted demand of bread arising from price levels and that their business has been lacking capital intensive modernization of machinery to meet the required competition standards. In order to arrest the situation the directors had to inject in more capital to the tune of KSh. 980,000 in form of paid up shares to finance purchase of machinery. They plead that despite all these hardships they have kept in their employment 34 unionizable employees, in addition to several casual employees who would be otherwise unemployed.

The claimants bitterly attacked the respondents in both verbal and written submissions on the ground that all their submissions were intended to mislead the court by concentrating heavily on financial difficulties and losses encountered by the company in total disregard of the workers sacrifice and welfare. They pointed out that the attitude adopted by the respondents was not new to them because they had right from the beginning displayed a hardened attitude towards them and that all along, even before the first collective agreement was negotiated, they were dodging them and their managers used to come and go and nobody took the negotiations seriously. They submitted that the respondents had no regard to the guidelines and although the claimants deal with over 286 employers in the country they had not come across even one who had such negative attitude towards them as the respondents. They stated that the respondents are about the only employers in the claimants list who are out to use any available means, including negotiating with their employees through the court, to exploit and make profits from trading with the employees delayed meagre adjustments to their economic welfare. They added that the respondents had several other companies in Nairobi and Nakuru which were very prosperous and the claimants could not believe that the respondents had been making losses and that it could not afford to give the workers their entitlements under the wages guidelines. They queries the authenticity of the respondents of audited statements of account which reflected nothing but losses for eight years consecutively.

The court notes that the first collective agreement which is the subject matter of revision was delayed for four years and can see no reason why the employees should not be compensated in accordance with their entitlement under the guidelines.

The court after careful consideration of all the points made by the parties makes the following award:

Wages:

The court has considered the fact that the employees salaries were adjusted through the amendments of the wages order on 1st August, 1982 and 1st May, 1985, respectively.

In view of the above, the court awards that the respondents should grant their employees a general wage increase as appended here below:

- (a) KSh. 50 per month for the first year.
- (b) KSh. 60 per month for the second year.
- (c) KSh. 75 per month for the third year.

Effective date and duration:

The court wards that the effective date be 1st July, 1982, with a duration period of three years from that date.

Duration of Casual Labour:

The court awards that any casual employee who works for the respondents continuously for a period of three months should be absorbed into monthly employment.

Night-shift Allowance:

The court notes that the parties have a collective agreement which entitles the workers 10 per cent of the daily basic wage as night-shift allowance and accordingly awards that the current provision should continue for the time being.

Housing Allowance:

The court notes that 15 per cent provision for housing allowance became effective since 1st August, 1982, and the respondents from that date started to pay house allowance on that basis. The court feels that this item should be adjusted and awards an additional KSh. 50 per month on the current housing allowance but effective from 1st January, 1985.

Leave Travelling Allowance:

The court awards that for the first two years of the collective agreement the leave allowance should be KSh. 100 and for the next one year it should be increased to KSh. 120.

Redundancy:

The court has carefully considered this issue and finds that the claimants demand is reasonable and the court so awards.

Annual paid leave:

The court finds the respondents offer of 23 working days to be reasonable and so awards with effective from the date of the court's award.

In case the respondents want to pay the arrears arising from the court award in instalments they should make an application to the court.

Dated in Nairobi the 3rd January, 1985.

TO THE KENYA GAZETTE

THE following notes are for the guidance of persons submitting "copy" for inclusion in the Kenya Gazette, Supplements, etc.:

- (1) The Kenya Gazette contains notices of a general nature which do not affect legislation. They are therefore submitted to the Government Printer directly.
- (2) Legislative Supplement contains Rules and Regulations which are issued by the Central Government. Because of this they must be submitted to the Government Printer through the office of the Attorney-General.
- (3) Bill Supplement contains Bills which are for introduction in the National Assembly.
- (4) Act Supplement contains Acts passed by the National Assembly.

All "copy" submitted for publication should be prepared on one side of an A4 sheet no matter how small the notice or Act, each page being numbered, and should be typewritten with double spacing. Copy should be clear, legible and contain a minimum of alterations.

Particular attention should be paid to the following points:

- (i) Signatures must be clarified by means of rubber-stamping or typing the name of the signer in capital letters.
- (ii) Dates must be correct and filled in where necessary.
- (iii) Care should be taken to ensure that all headings to notices and references to legislation are up to date and conform with the Revised Edition of the Laws of Kenya.

EXTRACT FROM THE CODE OF REGULATIONS, SECTION D—
*Kenya Gazette

"D.14.(1) Communications for the Kenya Gazette should reach the Government Printer not later than 12 noon, on Tuesday of the week that publication is desired. The Government Printer will not publish communications received after that hour until the next subsequent issue of the Gazette.

(2) It will facilitate work at the Press if Permanent Secretaries will forward Gazette notices to the Government Printer when ready."

It is emphasized that these notes are for guidance only, but it is requested that persons submitting copy for publication first satisfy themselves that such copy is complete in every respect.
