THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 103 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and Thaim Engineering Works

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful dismissal of Zapplin Mwanyae.

THE Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Thaim Engineering Works shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 20th May, 1987, and relied on their verbal and written submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 4th March, 1986, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 28th October, 1986 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. Mwanyae was employed by the respondents on 2nd February, 1981, as a wages clerk and remained in this position until his dismissal on 20th February, 1984, following a service of about three (3) years.

The reason that led to his dismissal was that he failed to measure up to the respondents' expectation despite a number of verbal warnings.

He immediately reported his dismissal to the claimants who took up the matter and demanded an unconditional reinstatement of the grievant. This, the respondents turned down. After reporting a formal trade dispute, the matter went through the usual industrial relations machinery, and the findings and recommendations of the Ministry were that the dismissal be reduced to normal termination plus four months salary by way of compensation for wrongful dismissal.

This recommendation was rejected by the respondents and the matter is now before the court for adjudication.

The claimants submitted that the respondents gave no reasons whatsoever for terminating the services of the grievant and maintained that the grievant had a clean record throughout his term of employment, and the allegation that his performance was poor was totally baseless and was merely brought up to justify their action.

The respondents on the other hand refuted the claimants' submission and pointed out that they could not have dismissed an employee who performed his duties satisfactorily. Their action was a last resort when the grievant failed to improve on his work performance.

The respondents further stated that on 27th March, 1984, a meeting was held in the Labour Office, Mombasa which was attended by the grievant, a representative from the claimants, the Federation of Kenya Employers and a labour officer. The purpose of calling the meeting was to work out the amount of compensation and terminal benefits to be paid to the grievant. After working out the figures, it was unanimously agreed that the respondents should pay KSh. 2,586.25 to the grievant, and this amount was paid to him the following day before the Labour Officer, Mombasa. A copy of certificate of payment duly signed by the grievant and witnessed by the labour officer was produced to the court. The respondents could not understand why the issue was being revised again and calling for more money than originally agreed and accepted by the grievant.

The court has analyzed the submissions by the parties and finds that the claimants have no case at all since they were represented at the meeting before the Labour Officer, Mombasa, where the amount of compensation was worked out and payment made in full and final settlement of the claim. A copy of certificate of payment duly signed by the grievant and witnessed by the labour officer was tabled before the court, and neither the claimants nor the grievant disputed the amount paid or the validity of the payment certificate.

The court is rather surprised to find that the claimants were allowed to bring such a speculative case up to this level.

The court has no hesitation in rejecting the claimants' demand and makes a nil award.

Given in Nairobi on 10th June, 1987.

Judge.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 3000

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 114 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Chemical Workers' Union
and
East Africa Industries Limited

Issues in dispute:

Minimum wage rates and general wage increases; housing and housing allowance; long-service increments; medical benefits and funeral expenses and arrangements.

THE Kenya Chemical Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and East Africa Industries Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 3rd and 24th April, 1987, and they primarily relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 9th October, 1986, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 8th December, 1986 along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

This is the second time that the parties to this dispute have resorted to the Industrial Court action for settlement of their dispute arising out of collective bargaining agreements since 1977 when the parties were heard under Cause No. 2 of 1977.

The current three-year collective agreement between the parties became effective on 1st July, 1982 and expired on 30th June, 1985. Under this agreement, the claimants got wage boost of 11.5 per cent, 12 per cent and 12.5 per cent for the first, second and third year, respectively, all totalling up to 36 per cent.

Following the expiry of the current agreement on 30th June, 1985, the claimants submitted their new proposals to the respondents on 20th May, 1985. The respondents acknowledged the receipt of the claimants' proposals on 29th May, 1985 and subsequently forwarded their counter-proposals to the claimants on 13th June, 1985. Since then up to 7th April, 1986, the parties were involved in protracted bargaining negotiations and conciliation efforts that resulted into a deadlock of five (5) issues now in dispute out of twenty-eight (28) items covered in the agreement. The court notes with satisfaction that both parties made progress in reducing the twenty-eight (28) issues under negotiation to only fourteen (14) issues when a deadlock was recorded. To resolve the issues deadlocked on, the Ministry appointed a conciliator whose efforts managed to further reduce the fourteen (14) issues in dispute to five (5) issues being arbitrated upon by the Industrial Court.

It is important to note from the outset that, the respondents' business is owned by the following parties:

Party	Percentage
Unilever Plc.	55
I.C.D.C.	34
I.C.D.C. Investment	11
Total	100

The claimants did strongly submit that, workers in this country have not benefited from increased productivity since 1979 when the wage guideline (i) dealing with productivity issue was disallowed due to worsening economic conditions. Furthermore, three-quarters (4) or 75 per cent maximum compensation ceiling for inflation has not augured well for employment creation especially in regard to the respondents. The claimants alleged that, the one-quarter (4) or 25 per cent granted to employers is intended for job creation although the respondents have perpetuated employment of casuals at the expense of permanent employment. Thus, unionizable permanent employees have remained more or less static at about 1,000 level from 1979 to 1986.

To push the productivity issue further, the claimants have maintained that, the respondents' volume of sales and profitability have continued to increase from 1975 to 1985. In case of the latter, pre-tax profit increased from KSh.3.1 million in 1975 to KSh.8.7 million in 1985. All those profits have gone to payments of dividends and expansion programmes. All in all, the claimants demanded that this trend must be reversed in favour of workers in order to motivate them through improved wages/salaries and other terms and conditions of service. To prove their point, the claimants cited a few similar firms that take good care of their workers as follows:

Kenya Breweries Limited; British American Tobacco Limited; Housing Finance Company of Kenya Limited; Kenya Canners Limited and Kenya Pipeline Company Limited.

On the other hand, the respondents have strongly argued against being compared to unsimilar firms, like Kenya Breweries Limited and British American Tobacco Limited (B.A.T.). Some of these firms enjoy monopolistic powers in the free market unlike the respondents who have stiff competition in most of their products. The respondents' products include fats, oils, detergents, tooth-paste, cosmetics and foods and drinks. Major competitors of the respondents are Elite Manufacturers, Elianto, Colgate Palmolive, Elephant Soap Industries, Interproduct Limited, Trufoods, Food Specialities, etc.

The respondents have reiterated that items already agreed upon by the parties should be taken into account when the court gives its award. To this end, the respondents have granted the claimants 6.5 per cent increase in terms of total annual labour cost relating to shift, leave, baggage and safari allowances, annual leave, disturbance allowance, etc. Apart from the above issues, the respondents on their own volition provide free meals, transport for shift workers, and medical facilities all adding up to an annual labour cost of KSh. 4.1 million constituting a relative figure of 14 per cent. All the fringe benefits agreed upon plus the provision of social amenities would amount to about 20.5 per cent (6.5%+14%) in terms of total annual labour costs.

The respondents have strongly argued against increasing labour costs because of profitability. In fact this is contrary to the wages guideline (viii), that is intended to ensure that inflation is contained within acceptable limits. As regards competition, the respondents have contended that investment in capital equipment is vital in order to increase efficiency, productivity level and to meet new government health requirements. There are, therefore, linkages in such investments and direct and indirect employment potential. In this connection, the respondents have created direct employment for 1,750 wholesalers and 112 transporters and indirectly created 27,000 jobs for retailers.

On the issue of employment of casuals, the respondents maintained that, the situation was necessitated by business fluctuations arising from the supply of raw materials and aggregate demand for products. Another point is that the statutory Requirements for declaring permanent employees redundant is more stringent than laying-off casuals in time of economic recession.

The court would now like to turn to the specific issues involved in this dispute. However, it should be noted that, this particular dispute covers about 1,050 employees drawing a total annual wage bill of KSh. 29.4 million.

Minimum wage rates and general wage increases:

The claimants demanded a compounded wage hike of 17 per cent, 16.5 per cent and 16 per cent for the first, second and third year, respectively. As already pointed out, these demands are based on the ability to pay, productivity and consumer price index changes.

The respondents have, however, offered the claimants 5.5 per cent for the first, second and third year, respectively. These increases total up to about 16.5 per cent as opposed to the claimants' demand of 49.5 per cent.

The court requested the Division of Manpower Planning and Development (D.M.P.D.) to carry out investigation due to the fact that, some of the issues in dispute were affected by the wage guidelines. A comprehensive analysis was carried out by the D.M.P.D. and its findings revealed that from July 1982 up to June 1985, the consumer price index (C.P.I.) for lower, middle and upper income groups rose on the average by 36.7 per cent which three-quarters (4) becomes 27.6 per cent forming the maximum compensation ceiling under guideline (iv). However, the claimants demanded full compensation, that is 100 per cent of the rise of the C.P.I. which amounts to 36.7 per cent.

After taking into account the parties' written and verbal submissions and the D.M.P.D. report on this issue, the court awards the following salary increases based on their present salary structure as at 30th June, 1985:

10 per cent, with effect from 1st July, 1985.

10 per cent, with effect from 1st July, 1986.

10 per cent, with effect from 1st July, 1987.

In addition to the above wage increases, the court directs that, the minimum wage rates should accordingly be increased by the above percentages.

Housing and housing allowance:

Under this issue, the claimants demanded a realistic figure based on actual rents for at least two bed-roomed house or such houses be provided to the employees instead of housing allowance.

All in all, the claimants appeared to have demanded a house allowance ranging between KSh. 1,200 to KSh. 2,000 per month the cost for a two-bedroomed house in Nairobi.

The respondents have offered a total of 7.5 per cent to be applied to the deconsolidated housing allowance as at 30th June, 1985, but not on the salary structure as demanded by the claimants.

Taking into consideration all the submissions made and the wages guideline (iv), the court awards the following house allowance based on the existing deconsolidated housing allowance as at 30th June, 1985.

(a) Grade	(b) Current House Allowance	(c) House Allowance Increase	Total (b)+(c)=(d)
01	205	31	236
02	237	36	273
03	282	42	324
04	309	46	355
05	348	52	400
06	363	55	418
07	378	58	436
08	441	66	507
09	453	68	521
10	515	77	592

The above housing allowance reflected in column (c) shall come into effect on 1st July, 1985, and continue in force for a three-year period of the proposed agreement.

Long-service increments:

On this issue, the claimants' demand stood as indicated in the table below:

Grade/Year	0-1	5-8	9-12	13-16	17-20	Over 20
	Sh.	Sh.	Sh.	Sh.	Sh.	Sh.
01	30	60	90	120	150	180
02-04	35	70	105	140	175	210
05-10	40	80	120	160	200	240

The above claimants' demand was based on motivating the workers to serve the respondents for longer years through introduction of built-in service increment in the salary structure. This step will serve as an inducement to reduce high labour turnover and increase the labour retention rate.

The respondents submitted that, they are paying "the rate for the job" and hence did not see the rationale for allowing automatic annual increments in salary structure. They, the respondents, contended that a long-serving worker benefits through promotions, accumulation of provident fund scheme and the National Social Security Fund (N.S.S.F.).

Having carefully considered all the submissions and observations, the court awards long-service increments to all employees irrespective of their occupation category or grade as follows:

- (i) After ten (10) years completed service, KSh. 30 per month, and
- (ii) After twenty (20) years completed service, KSh. 60 per month (that is KSh. 30+KSh. 30).

The above long-service incremental credit also becomes effective from 1st July, 1985.

Medical Benefits:

Under this item, the claimants have demanded that medical treatment be provided by the respondents to them and members of their families at either the respondents' clinic or any other hospital/dispensary if such services are not available at the factory's clinic.

There was no offer from the respondents' side because expansion of medical facilities to include family members would be prone to abuse leading to severe financial strain. At this juncture, the respondents' annual medical expenditure is estimated to be KSh. 0.5 (4) million for 1,050 employees. The financial implication is explicit if the employees' family members (four (4) members per worker multiply by 1,050, comes to 4,200 persons) would imply quadrupling of medical costs to about KSh. 2 million per year. Due to the colossal medical tine with the existing medical scheme excluding family members.

The court rejects the claimants' demands on medical benefits for now. However, the court would like to state that, the same issue may be reviewed by the parties after the expiry of the proposed three-year agreement on 30th June, 1988. The court would like to urge the parties to seriously study the medical benefits being provided by other major employers in the country.

Funeral expenses and arrangements:

The claimants are desirous to have this item incorporated formally in the collective agreement with the respondents committed to fulfil certain obligations after the death of an employee. To support their case, the claimants cited other firms like Kenya Breweries Limited and B.A.T. (K) Limited that have incorporated this clause in their existing collective agreements.

On the other hand, the respondents have strongly argued against this issue to be formally incorporated in the collective agreement because it is basically a welfare issue. All along, the respondents have contributed towards funeral expenses in the form of transport, coffins, and other related expenses.

The court has given due consideration to all the submissions made in respect to this issue, and the court has decided not to make any award as the court feels that the present arrangements are satisfactory.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 3001

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.
